Russian Economy Is in Trouble as Bank Runs Begin

Reports Are Being Given Out by Russia Itself and Diplomats Weigh Value

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Soviet Russia's tightly managed Communist economy is reported in serious trouble at home from a wave of bank runs and panic buying in Moscow and other cities.

Well based reports, some of them broadcast to the world in 23 languages last night by the State Department's official "Voice of America" radio said:

1. Crowds excited by rumors that the ruble was about to be devalued have forced many stores to close in the last few days because of frantic efforts to turn paper money into durable goods.

2. A rush to withdraw money from savings bank accounts resulted in an order to limit individual withdrawals to 200 rubles daily.

These spectacular reports—coming out of Russia itself—gave such a sudden new twist to the Kremlin's relations with the rest of the world that diplomats here were cautious in weighing the likely effects.

Moscow's unceasing propaganda against American plans to aid western Europe has hammered the theme that (A) the capitalist United States is headed for an inevitable depression while (B) the Soviet economy is secure.

Now, however, there appear to be grave doubts among the Russian people themselves.

Next Step Demands Full Compliance From Pedestrians, Drivers

The State Traffic Commission has order the installation of a traffic light on Route 9W. in Port Ewen; the reduction of the speed limit there from 35 to 30 miles per hour, and the erection of hamlet signs at the north and south ends of the hamlet, Supervisor John T. Groves of the Town of Esopus was informed in a letter received today from R. C. Georger, director of the traffic commission.

The traffic light to be installed will be a four-face stop and go signal actuated by vehicles and pedestrians. It will be placed at the intersection of Route 9W and Salem street, and will retain a green indication on Route 9W which will be released by means of pedestrian push-buttons and vehicle actuating plates installed on the surface of Salem street, the order states.

The letter warns that the action by the state will not completely solve the traffic problem in Port Ewen "unless the signs, signals, and markings are complied with by both drivers and pedestrians." The commission suggests in its letter to Supervisor Groves that a well-planned publicity and educational campaign be inaugurated in the community.

"We have in mind particularly the correction of the poor pedestrian habits in crossing Route 9W," Georger wrote.

The necessary work to complete the orders will be performed by the State Department of Public Works. Approaching winter conditions may delay the work, but the Traffic Commission hopes to have it completed prior to the next summer touring season, Georger stated.

Specifically, the orders direct: 1. The installation and operation Continued on Page Thirty-two

Mail Gets Heavier, No 'Extras' Hired Yet

A general uptrend in normal business and a beginning of the extra flow of Christmas mail has substantially increased the volume handled by the local post office, but no extra men have been added to date. Postmaster William R. Kraft said today.

Mail deliveries have been slightly later in some areas since the rush began. Extra men will not be added to the present force until the flow of Christmas mail reaches the point where they are needed, the postmaster said.

This is usually within two weeks before Christmas.

Conditions along the Mediterranean coast were so critical that trains from Paris were proceeding only as far as Lyon.

Socialist Premier Robert Schuman's cabinet considered raising salaries of public employees and the council of ministers seemed ready to approve raising minimum pay throughout France, a focal issue in the strikes led by the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor.

The national assembly beat down Communist opposition before dawn and passed Schuman's law redefining sabotage and increasing penalties. The use of fraud, threats or violence in starting, spreading and prolonging strikes became an offense.

In central and northern France, the back to work movement was gaining. Officials at Lille said only 4,000 textile workers remained on strike compared to 125,000 a few days ago.

A new syndicate of metal workers was being formed in Paris, eliminating the Communists. Several automobile factories in the capital called their employees back to work tomorrow.

A mobile guard officer died in Paris from injuries of last week, raising to 22 the number of deaths since rioting and sabotage began more than two weeks ago when 20 French unions struck, asking 25 per cent wage increases.

The guards went into action at Nice after the mob at the post office had cornered police in an upstairs section of the building. Hospitals admitted 22 persons injured in the riot. Strikers twice before had occupied the Nice post office, but they gave way this time Continued on Page Thirty

Board Acts On Advice of Committee

Four Members, Schantz, Wilson, Waizman, Jordan Proposed Continuance Clause Is Passed

Prosecution Is Promised to Those Who Attempt Illegal Collection

Taking the recommendation of the Committee on Propagation of Game, Game Birds and Fish, the Board of Supervisors Wednesday evening voted to continue the bounty on foxes.

Throughout the annual session this year communications have come in favoring the retention of the bounty and also the discontinuance of the bounty. Trappers of foxes have generally favored the bounty on the grounds the price of pelts would not warrant the trapping of foxes if the bounty were removed. Poultrymen also favored continuance of the bounty on the theory that foxes are responsible for much poultry destruction. Others favored the bounty on the grounds it tended to reduce the fox population and thereby to some extent eliminate the danger from rabies, a disease which has become widespread among foxes and has been communicated to cattle, dogs and other animals.

The chief sponsor for eliminating the fox bounty was the hunter who hunts foxes for sport and those who contend the money paid for fox bounties could be better spent in propagation of game. The committee Supervisors Cluett, Schantz, Kenneth Wilson, William Waizman and Matthew J. Jordan, recommended the bounty be continued and a resolution to that effect was adopted unanimously. The county will pay $2 for red foxes and $3 for gray foxes. In the adoption of the law a clause that anyone found attempting to collect a fox bounty illegally would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

In order to collect a bounty the pelt must be presented to a supervisor with the lower jaw attached to the pelt. This will be cut free by the supervisor and both ears of the fox will be punched to eliminate collection of a second bounty. The lower jaw once removed will be destroyed by the supervisor who certifies to the authenticity of the kill.

The resolution of the committee was adopted. Supervisors Schantz, Wilson, Waizman and Jordan, the Committee on Propagation of Game, Game Birds and Fish, reports that in their opinion the present bounty of $2 for red foxes and $3 for gray foxes should be continued by the county.

The committee are primarily concerned by the large number of rabid foxes which have been reported from our neighboring counties, Sullivan and Delaware. So far this year in this state there have been 250 cases of rabid foxes, and 276 cattle with rabies. These cases are positive Continued on Page Fourteen

Freemans Square Jammed for Yule Program

Wednesday night's Christmas program around the giant community tree at Freeman Square drew a large turnout of adults and children for the official ceremony of turning on the lights that sparkle from the festoons of yule season greens that decorate Kingston's Broadway. Miss Bollenbach added that, as far as she knows, no further additions will be made to the staff in the near future.

Aid Is Necessary For U. S. Security

Representative Cox Says Russia All but Wages Shooting War

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Asserting that Russia "is waging everything but a shooting war against us," Representative Cox (D-Ga.) told the House today it must approve foreign aid "as an investment in national security."

The Georgian gained the floor soon after the House began debate on the $590,000,000 emergency aid measure for Austria, France, Italy and China—a measure the administration contends is needed to check the spread of Communism.

On the opposition side, Rep. Leo Allen (R-Ill.) raised a question whether a Europe strengthened with American help might not go Communist in any event with the result that "all we give in the way of aid may eventually be used against us in one way or another."

While the House debate went on, the Senate appropriations committee was exploring that same question asked by Allen.

The Senate group had Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett before it. He assured the members that emergency help for France, Italy and Austria can be cut off if Communists seize control of those governments.

Lovett said that is basic in the $597,000,000 aid legislation passed by the Senate, and that additional "safeguards" will be written into contracts to be made with those governments.

Seaman Is Released on Bail After Breaking Windows

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Gerald Kasset, 19-year-old merchant seaman of North State Road, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., was free in $100 bail today pending trial in special sessions court on a charge of malicious mischief after he allegedly broke windows of a Bronx home.

A charge of attempted robbery against Kasset was reduced to malicious mischief yesterday when he appeared in youth term of magistrate court and paid five dollars to Vito Petrullo, of 3519 White Plains Road, the Bronx, for breaking three kitchen windows of Petrullo's home.

Kasset was arrested early Tuesday by Patrolman Joseph Nolan of the Wakefield station, the Bronx, after he allegedly broke the windows.

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Taft-Hartley Labor Law stirred new praise and new fury today—and a rash of new rulings and lawsuits.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) chairman of the Congressional "Watch Dog" Committee set up to study operation of the act, declared that it is "working out far better than even its most optimistic supporters had hoped."

He said the "hysterical charges" of union leaders last summer have been disproved.

But C.I.O. President Philip Murray said: "Events which have already transpired, unfortunately, are eloquent proof in support of the predictions made by labor when this vicious law was under consideration."

Marelo, Ferguell Cases Will Go to Jury in Charleston

Marelo Denies Financing Trip to Kingston for Ferguell, Woman; No Threats

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 4 (AP)—Testimony in the trial of John Marelo, 35, and John Ferguell, 33, on charges of kidnaping a Charleston woman and transporting her to Kingston, N. Y., concluded in a Federal Court here today.

The jury was scheduled to receive the case late in the afternoon.

Marelo and Ferguell, who is from Kingston, are accused of abducting 24-year-old Ruth Virginia Fitzwater to prevent her from testifying against Marelo whom the state charged with operating a house of ill fame.

The defense rested its case after final testimony by Marelo. The government concluded after introducing rebuttal testimony designed to show that no threats were made against Ferguell to obtain signed statements admitting his part in the alleged abduction.

During cross-examination today, Marelo denied financing the automobile trip of Ferguell and Mrs. Fitzwater from Charleston to Kingston. He said he did not know where Ferguell got the necessary travel funds.

Officers Testify
Two Kingston police officers, Detectives William T. Brophy and Wesley J. Cramer, denied that Ferguell had been threatened into signing his statement—which was admitted in evidence—and their Continued on Page Twenty-five

Murray Asks Green to Take Part in Labor Law Action

President William Green, called for joint C.I.O.-A.F.L. action on the grounds that (a) employers are seeking to use the act "as a weapon against the living standards of the workers" and (b) the National Labor Relations Board and its agents are helping them.

The A.F.L., however, made clear that it has no intention of retreating from its long-standing position. That joint action by the two labor groups can be brought about only through physical merger.

A spokesman for Green reiterated that stand even as Green was assembling his 13-man executive council for an all-day session to lay plans for the A.F.L.'s new political arm.

Through this organization—to be called "Labor's Educational and Political League"—the A.F.L. will Continued on Page Thirty

Labor Group Plans To Aim at Repeal Of Strike Statute

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—The State Federation of Labor will press for repeal of the Condon-Wadlin anti-public employe strike law by the 1948 Legislature and will ask increased unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation benefits.

These were the major points in the legislative program adopted yesterday by the Federation's executive council.

The council also selected New York city as the site for the Federation's 1948 convention, the major criticism was that the law

August 1-5. Discussed, but not acted upon, was the strengthening of a resolution proposing amendment of the Federation constitution to bar Communists from serving as delegates to the state convention. The resolution was adopted at the council's New York city meeting September 23.

The proposal will be submitted to the state convention next year.

Before voting unanimously to authorize preparation of a bill to repeal the Condon-Wadlin Act, the council rejected all proposals for legislation to establish grievance procedure for employes of the state and its political subdivisions.

The act, passed by the 1947 Legislature, prohibits public employes to strike under penalty of automatic dismissal. Among the major criticisms was that the law made no provisions for hearing and disposing of employe grievances.

The council's decision to campaign for repeal of the law followed by a day the assurance of Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi that grievance machinery would be established for state employes.

The council also approved proposed legislation to:

1. Grant unemployment insurance to idle workers who are ill. At present unemployed persons must be able to accept work in order to qualify for benefits.

2. Grant dependency allowances to persons qualifying for unemployment insurance. A weekly allowance for each dependent child, up to and including three children, is sought by the Federation, which has not yet fixed the amount.

3. Increase workmen's compensation benefits from a minimum of $12 weekly to $20, and the maximum from $28 to $35.

Handbook to Be Ready For Schools in Month

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—Standards upon which "merit" or promotional salary increments for teachers should be based have been recommended by the advisory committee on teachers' salaries.

The committee unanimously adopted a revised final report yesterday. The report did not deal with merits of the system, attacked by teacher organizations, which was incorporated in the teacher salary law passed by the 1947 Legislature.

The Education Department said the report included recommended materials for a handbook which will be distributed to local school authorities next month.

A department spokesman said the handbook would suggest "procedures, techniques and devices useful to local school authorities in evaluating teachers' services for promotional increment purposes."

A preliminary report in September set forth scores of classroom and community service factors for consideration in awarding the controversial merit increments.

SHOULD YOU DRIVE?

The greatest killer on the nation's highways is the average motorist who smugly fancies himself a good driver, according to this week's Saturday Evening Post.

The sober truth about the carnage on our highways is this: It isn't bad roads, bad weather or bad cars that cause accidents; it's bad drivers. Only about one in a thousand of the forty-four million licensed drivers in this country is a thoroughly competent operator, according to David G. Wittels, who declares that the record is bloody with case histories of otherwise intelligent people who caused sudden death through sheer ignorance of the right way to drive.

Drunks aside, the most dangerous drivers are the accident-prone people, who kill about 13,000 people a year. Most such drivers, easily can be detected by psychiatrists, but not a single state has psychiatrists on its licensing staff. There are tests which can point out ninety-two per cent of such drivers, and which can be given and interpreted by trained laymen, but not one state uses such tests as a prelude to issuing licenses, Mr. Wittels points out.

The only real solution of the tragic problem is an intensive program of training drivers, backed up by strict licensing tests, adequate eye tests for applicants and periodical re-examinations, he writes.

Motor vehicle operators and pedestrians alike will gain much information from the Post article entitled, "Should You Be Allowed to Drive?"

If Russian Foreign Minister Molotov is too uppity to lunch with our Secretary of State Marshall, why there's just a meal lost and some information missed which Uncle Sam can probably get along without. But the average American says it's a dumb way for Molotov to act.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING

A Philadelphia department store and a mattress manufacturer made an experiment to measure consumer reaction to advertised brands. The results proved in a spectacular way that the public buys the goods whose names are well known.

Two piles each made up of 24 mattresses were arranged in the store, the mattresses in both piles to sell for the same price. They were identical mattresses in filling, value, durability of covering and the like. One pile was labeled with the maker's name, a widely advertised one. Those in the other pile were given a fictitious label, used for the first time that day. A clerk, acting merely as an order-taker and in no way as a salesman, answered any questions as to the value of the mattresses by saying both were good. Fifteen of the well advertised brand were sold, and one of the other. The experiment was repeated with price reduction of from $5 to $10 on the mattresses of unknown names. With a ten dollar difference, more of the well known brand were sold.

Those in the advertising business can take satisfaction from a demonstration like this conducted by a reliable merchant and manufacturer. But let them all remember if the public buys by brand name, it does so because it has found that over a long period such labels mean quality. Any deviation from the standard would soon be found out by buyers.

One thing fairly certain in this doubtful world is that nobody is going to put anything over on the Russians. That is, excepting what they put over on themselves. That seems to be plenty.

MUCH-TRAVELED SCRAP

Remember all the talk about the scrap iron America sent to Japan, which, it was firmly believed, was put into Nippon's war efforts against this country? A good bit of it, it seems, never was used. At any rate, 65,000 tons of it is on its way back to the United States to go where it is badly needed, into steel mills. In return, Japan will get finished steel products for use in her rehabilitation.

BOOK REVIEWS

For some weeks, we have been dealing with the movies; let us now turn to book reviews. This has become quite a business in recent years, some newspapers running a daily book review column by a sort of book columnist who pretends to read the most massive and erudite volumes in the course of an afternoon. That it cannot be done is obvious; for instance, Du Nouy's "Human Destiny" cannot be read like a Rex Stout murder.

I recently came across a review of Freda Utley's "Last Chance in China," by Harold R. Isaacs. Apparently, the editor of the New York Times Book Review, operates like a Town Hall debate, getting someone who dislikes a book and its author to give the other side. Differing from the Town Hall, however, he permits no rebuttal, making it possible for an antagonistic reviewer to kill a book.

Now Freda Utley is a well-informed lady, an ex-Communist who has lived in Russia and China and knows what she is talking about. Long before the present converts to the "Russian menace," who are hopping on the bandwagon of anti-Communism, fast, Freda Utley recognized the danger and said it out loud. In those days that was a daring thing to do, because if one risked telling the truth, the galleons of propaganda roared upon the truth-teller with hatred.

So, Isaacs says that Utley's point of view is: She believes that no present evil in the world, like the Greek monarchy, the Turkish dictatorship or a corrupt Chinese officialdom, is comparable to the Russian evil; that nothing was more naive than the notions that led President Roosevelt at Yalta to sign an agreement that launched Russia on its new drive for power in Asia.

With that he disagrees. His view is: "We can share Miss Utley's urgent fear of Russian totalitarianism. But it is more difficult to see how we are going to exorcise the menace by joining hands with the Chiang-Kai-sheks and Chen Li-fus of China or of any country. If these are the only possible allies of democracy, then Miss Utley's too is a program for darkness."

In other words, he holds that the United States can afford to pick and choose its allies and not use what is at hand. He makes the further point that Freda Utley says that it might cost us $15,000,000,000 to support Chiang. She actually said that $3,000,000,000 or $4,000,000,000 would probably suffice. She does make the point, however, that China's importance to us is so great that $10,000,000,000 or $15,000,000,000 would not be too great a cost. I have my own doubts about all these billions just as I have my doubts about the billions for Europe, but Isaacs clearly misquotes and misrepresents Miss Utley's position, which he has no right to do.

I found another such misrepresentation, but do not choose to give it space. Mr. Isaacs does not favor Chiang-Kai-shek. Whom he does favor does not appear in his review, but the editor of the "New York Times Book Review," needing to decorate his page, to make it lively and attractive to the reader, fills it out with a photograph of "Soldiers of the Chinese Communist Army" who do no other Chinese soldiers, neither better nor worse. He could have used a photograph of the Chinese government's army against whom these boys are in rebellion. They would have looked about the same.

On the same page is a review of "Danger from the East" by Richard E. Lauterbach—a book that I have not read. It apparently is a violent attack on General MacArthur who has done a grand job in Japan. Friends of mine, Japanese in Japan, some of whom I have known for a quarter of a century or more, have written to me to tell me of the wonders that General MacArthur has performed in and for their country. According to the reviewer, Robert Shaplen, this is what he gets out of Lauterbach's book:

"We have forgotten that Japan is basically a world problem. Mr. Lauterbach writes, and we have made her a colony. The Emperor is still revered, his throne now shared by MacArthur.... I can survive without reading Lauterbach." (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

TAKE NO CHANCES WITH APPENDICITIS

Although operations for appendicitis are now so "safe" that only about one in 100 die if the operation is performed within the first 36 hours, no one likes the idea of an operation, however safe.

When pain occurs in the region of the appendix, it is just as natural to think it is appendicitis as to think of pain under the breast bone as heart disease. It is appendicitis or it is not appendicitis, and the family physician will give peace of mind if not appendicitis, and save life if it is appendicitis.

Although the typical or usual pain in appendicitis starts high up in the region of the stomach, and works down gradually to the region of the appendix, an attack may not be typical so that pain in the appendix region lasting more than one or two hours may not be due to gas and acid and the family physician should be consulted. Even the cinema which gives relief from pain in the stomach and intestines caused by gas is not considered safe treatment in appendicitis. This is due to its aggravating effect upon the muscular walls of the intestine, causing further irritation of the inflamed appendix. Some physicians, however, advise a "small" enema—only a pint of warm water.

When the pain occurs, rather than up in the abdomen after a fast, down to the appendix region, the patient should immediately lie down on the back and take neither a purgative nor an enema or even a drug to quiet or ease the pain. No food or liquid should be taken.

When the physician informs the patient that appendicitis is the cause of pain and an immediate operation is necessary, there should be no delay. About undergoing an operation, as 24 hours' delay may be fatal.

I have spoken before of the careful survey made by physicians in Philadelphia in which they were able to show the citizens of that city—and the world in general—that in cases of appendicitis where a laxative had been given, 7 per cent of the patients died, but where no laxative had been given only 2 per cent died. Since that time, the death rate where no laxative was given and an operation performed within the first 36 hours was less than 1 per cent.

It is a better use for the stuff than armament would have been.

Believe it or not, there are quite a few people now living who saw the first electric lights on street corners, and can still remember the wonder of it.

The "music of the spheres" seems to have been over-rated. Recent reports of solar tunes says they sound like gravel on a tin roof.

Now they say Europe is hungry for books; and to tell the truth, it would probably be wise to ship a lot of baled enlightenment over there.

Our Cup Runneth Over

Unknown Craftsmen

By FRANK TRIPP

It is strange by what unusual routes obscure genius sometimes becomes known, and credit thus bestowed which otherwise might never have been given those who deserve it. Such an incident lately came my way.

International note was taken of the Merry-Go-Round bowl, the gorgeous crystal wedding gift of President and Mrs. Truman to Princess Elizabeth.

Mention was made of its designer, Sculptor S. J. D. W. V. Waugh, but not a word of the man who made it (and made another like it for a showpiece, by the way).

The brilliance of his workmanship eclipsed his creator. How often that happens.

There are people who will read a book and be unable to tell who wrote it. They become so absorbed in the story that the characters act and talk to them. The writer is forgotten.

Others will watch a play and become so enamored of the actors that not only will the author be unknown to them but the play itself becomes smothered by their admiration for the players.

The same is true of music, paintings and works of art, as viewed by many people—perhaps by the majority. Certainly most people do not strive to know and praise the genuine creator of the things that give them joy.

They are even that careless about their own Creator.

It is true that no greater praise can come to us than praise of that which we create. This is particularly true of those shy artists who hide from view and die unknown; yet are happy and repaid by the world's acceptance of their work.

Still in every heart lurks a yearning for appreciation; and with most the best comes out when worth is recognized. Even a child will try harder with his crayons if his last crude coloring is praised. Some people could almost live on appreciation. Others wouldn't know, they get so little of it.

These are thoughts smothered out by a letter from a friend in Washington. A home-town neighbor really, but still of Washington—Elsie Wiegman, Tom's wife, Tom, who married nationally The March of Dimes.

Elsie was conversing with an engraver of glass who was doing some work for her at Woodward.

As Lathrop's. She instructed that the glass be shipped to Elmita. The engraver said he knew Elmita; lived his early life in nearby Corning, learned his trade there.

It was the day of the royal wedding, and quite natural that Corning's part in that absorbing event should have been mentioned. They talked about the gift of the President.

Then happened the thing which prompted me to tell you by the way the reaction of one creator of art toward another. There lies the exception which proves the rule.

A writer reads a book with admiration—or disdain—for its author. A composer hears "The Magic Flute" and sees Mozart conducting. A craftsman sees a masterpiece with admiration for its maker.

That's just what this engraver saw—the skill which made the Merry-Go-Round bowl. He said: "I felt I knew the man who did the actual engraving, so I called Corning and asked my friend Joseph Lathrop, if he didn't do the work. He did."

As we know the voice of a friend, so can one master of an art identify the art of his fellows.

Yet through generations, to come countless royal guests will admire the wedding gift of the President of the United States to Princess Elizabeth; but never know the name of the man who made it.

And so Joseph Libisch of Corning, N. Y., engraver on glass with a copper wheel, entrusted to make an historic royal heirloom, must take his place with that legion of unknown master craftsmen who smile contentedly in the satisfaction that what they created made someone happy.

Figures From U. S. Department of Commerce Records Will Give True Picture in Face of New Wage Demands.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 4—At last out of the councils of industry—until now strangely indifferent to the distortion of economic facts—have come some clear-cut statements in answer to the propaganda of the C.I.O. and A.F.L. and of the Truman administration that profits are abnormal.

The propaganda now is important because the American people are about to be subjected to demands for a "third round" of wage increases that can set off a chain reaction and cause an economic collapse in 1949 when the full effects of what may be done in 1948 are reflected in the price level.

There is a limit to which prices can go before the breaking point comes, and the C.I.O. and A.F.L. leaders seem bent on forcing the issue to such a breaking point. Their main argument is that profits are high and industry can stand the increases in wages. It seems not to be a question of whether wages are adequate to meet living costs—for prices have not risen beyond the ability of wage earners to meet them. It is a question of whether our economic system, that is based on the principle of profit and loss, shall be sabotaged by the use of the nation's threat at a time when the nation cannot afford strikes or interruptions, to much-needed production.

Nor is it a question of employer resistance. For the tendency of employers in basic industries has been to grant the wage increases and send the prices upward to absorb the new costs. In the end, the whole spiral will bring economic disaster.

Can reason be brought into the debate which is so full of selfishness and emotion?

The National Industrial Conference Board has just started publication of a series of leaflets giving some basic facts on profits. The Conference Board is a statistical and fact-finding body with headquarters in New York City. It is supported by the principal corporations of the country. The new leaflets are, however, merely a collection of figures and data collected by the United States Government itself.

Thus, figures taken from the U. S. Department of Commerce records show that American business derived after taxes 4.7 cents out of the sales dollar in 1946, as compared with 5.2 cents in 1941 and 4 cents in 1939.

The labor leaders point to the fact that business earned $11.5 billions in profits after taxes in 1946, as compared with $1.8 billions in 1939. But this is due to the rise in corporate sales from $120.8 billions in 1939 to $245.5 billions in 1946.

Profits numerically are bound to be larger when demand is larger, but out of those profits must come funds to enlarge the facilities with which to meet the demand for goods. Likewise, the cost of construction, of equipment, of everything needed to enlarge facilities has risen perceptibly. The profit dollar of the corporation buys no more or less than the profit dollar of the worker. Purchasing power of the dollar has shrunk so that a profit dollar numerically does not mean what the purchasing power of the dollar meant in 1939.

About 2.5 cents out of the less than 5 cents per dollar of profit margin in 1946 had to be set aside by corporations, says the conference board, for expansion of facilities, as an offset for higher replacement costs of inventory, plant and equipment in present markets, or against unknown contingencies. This ratio was about the same as in 1941.

Profit margins per dollar of sales are shown, incidentally, to have been substantially lower in 1946 than in the years of rigid controls.

One lesson to be learned from a study of the various tables is that the government should not take such a tremendous amount of money in taxes. Thus, the profit margins per sales dollar in 1946 were 7.9 cents before taxes, as against 4.7 cents after taxes. If there could be substantial economies in the cost of government, prices could be cut and wages increased and profit margins would not be materially changed. Let the labor leaders are fighting tax reduction and urging more and more government expenditures. The inflation spiral cannot be broken that way.

Final Test Will Be Given Control of Rents in Peacetime

Cleveland, Dec. 4 (AP)—The legality of rent controls in peacetime will be submitted to a final test by the U. S. Supreme Court in a few weeks, housing officials predicted today.

The court will be asked to decide on a ruling by Federal Judge Paul Jones upholding rent controls unconstitutional when peace "in fact" has arrived.

"We considered the decision of such nationwide importance," said Karl M. Dudner, area rent director for Cleveland, "that we decided to go directly to the U. S. Supreme Court for a quick ruling."

"We should have a decision before the rent act expires Feb. 29."

Ed Dupree, general counsel of the office of housing expediter, said in Washington at least two other U. S. District judges had upheld the 1947 Housing and Rent Control Act's constitutionality.

One landlord here, Mrs. Hazel Smith, was granted a temporary injunction yesterday restraining enforcement of an order that she reduce rents to rooming house tenants.

Dudner said he thought similar injunctions would be awarded other complaining landlords in Judge Jones' court.

They risk paying overcharges, or possibly triple damages should the Supreme Court call the rent act unconstitutional he said.

Eastern Tractor Handles 2,293 Tons of Freight in Eight Months

A total of 2,293 tons of freight was handled at the local factory of the Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., 36 St. James street, from April through September, this year, the concern announced today.

The figure, the company said, represents 382.2 tons of freight handled monthly, 16.6 tons daily, and approximately one carload handled monthly, 16.6 tons daily, and approximately one carload handled daily by its employees with the cooperation of local rail and motor freight carriers.

May was the peak month with a total of 659 tons handled. The company announced that Gardenaide products have now reached the 48 states, Canada and about 17 foreign countries, as inquiries from other nations are being received daily.

Gardenaide's two-wheel garden tractor, which plows soil, cultivates, disc-harrows, plants seeds, mows grass, cuts hay and plows snow, is considered by the company an essential item in current foreign trade. It is not affected by the recent Canadian trade embargo on products manufactured by U. S. industries, since agricultural items are exempt.

Would Let Veterans Train on Job 4 Years

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Legislation to permit four years of on-the-job training for veterans in all types of employment has been introduced by Rep. Sikes (D-Fla.).

Other new House bills include: Rep. Edwin A. Hall (R-N.Y.)—To authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to select 100 to 900 county agricultural agents for volunteer service in nations getting American aid.
Rep. St. George (R-N.Y.)—To give federal employees a $500 annual salary increase.

Would Cut Rations

Tokyo, Dec. 3 (AP)—An Allied headquarters official today threatened to cut the food rations of coal miners unless they increase production now lagging so that the country is getting "less and less of almost everything." Charles Gottschalk, Cincinnati, O., of the headquarters economic and scientific section, told the meeting Japanese miners are getting nearly twice as much food as European pit workers, yet were producing only one fourth as much coal.

EAT WELL for Less

TASTY DISHES KEEP COSTS DOWN

To combine economy and flavor, serve potatoes and sausage with tomato sauce.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

N.E.A. Staff Writer

To keep up nutrition and cut food costs in your family, serve main dishes like these:

Potatoes and Sausages With Tomato Sauce (Serves 6-8)

Four tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 5 tablespoons flour, 2 1/2 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 6 cups cooked diced potatoes, 8 sausages, 2 parsley sprigs.

Blend melted butter or margarine and flour in saucepan. Add tomato juice and cook until mixture is thick and no starchy taste remains, about 15 minutes. Stir in salt. Worcestershire sauce, green pepper and onion. Continue simmering tomato sauce for three minutes. Place potatoes in heat-resistant glass eight-inch square cake dish. Pour tomato sauce over potatoes. Arrange sausages on top of potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 35 minutes. For serving, garnish with parsley.

Budget Chicken Pie (Serves 5)
One and one-half cups diced cooked chicken, 1 1/2 cups diced cooked potatoes, 1/2 cup diced cooked carrots, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce, salt, pepper. Plain pastry using 1 1/2 cups flour.

Combine chicken, potatoes, carrots, onion and sauce. Season well to taste. Pour into a shallow casserole. Meanwhile roll out pastry to fit dish, making it slightly larger. Cover dish with pastry, pressing it firmly to the edges. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) until the pastry is well browned and vegetable mixture is bubbly, about 25 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Stewed dried peaches, ready-to-eat wholewheat cereal, toasted corn muffins, butter or fortified margarine, homemade jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Bowls of lentil soup with crostons (made of stale bread), rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, sliced oranges and bananas, peanut butter cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Grapefruit cup, potatoes and sausages with tomato sauce, buttered broccoli, celery, steamed ginger pudding, lemon sauce, coffee, milk.

THREE GRAND MEALS

SING A SONG OF GRAPEFRUIT

Grapefruit, fresh, new-crop, packed with Vitamin C, is available in abundance. You'll want plenty of fresh grapefruit in the refrigerator to serve at every meal — breakfast, lunch and dinner. Drink the refreshing juice often — it builds up resistance and helps to protect you against infection and fatigue.

Breakfast: The Check With Low Cost Vitamin Rich Grapefruit
FOR BREAKFAST: FILL THE CENTERS of grapefruit halves with plumped raisins, or a spoonful of cranberry sauce and serve with a dash of honey.

FOR A BRITTLE MORNING: Sprinkle grapefruit halves with brown sugar, dot with a speck of butter and put under a very low oven, or under the broiler flame until lightly brown. Serve bubbling hot!

THERE'S SOMETHING SPECIAL about fresh grapefruit juice and fresh orange juice, served half and half. No sugar please.

GRAPEFRUIT SEGMENTS were made for salads! Nest them with orange slices in lettuce cups for a super-rich, vitamin C salad. Contrast them with red-whiskered apple slices for color and taste. Blend their tart flavor with mild avocado. Combine them with flaked fish for a filling main dish.

FOR DINNER: START DINNER WITH GRAPEFRUIT—cranberry juice cocktail, or serve hot, broiled grapefruit halves.

BROIL GRAPEFRUIT SEGMENTS, drench with butter, and serve with baked fish, roast fowl, or a platter of mingling meats.

END DINNER WITH GRAPEFRUIT—Grand Union Homemakers' Service 30 Church St., New York 7, N.Y.

Dear Pup and I Send Love
Remember when you stormed about the house. The day you thought I'd lost your favorite pocket knife? Demanding loudly why (to one who seldom mislaid anything) The Pates had passed out such a careless wife! And then the time you shouted at the Pup, who ran to me with frightened yelp! (You'd caught him sleeping in your chair!) He was too little then to understand Just why you didn't want him there. A peaceful calm had settled on the house. (It's been ages since you went away) Our jangled nerves are back to normal now. The Pup and I have both enjoyed our holiday! I caught his sleeping safely in your chair. I cannot speak for him. But oh, I'd give the whole wide world To hear your bellow once again, dear, dear Jim!

—Herman S. Garst.
The youngster had heard much about his little cousin Peter although he had never seen him. At long last he was told Peter was coming for a visit, and he registered great excitement. Nobody could understand it when he took one look at his little cousin and burst into tears of disappointment. "I thought," he sobbed, "that Peter was a rabbit!"

Boys Splurge With $5,000 Found in Unlocked Safe

Malden, Mass., Dec. 4 (AP)—The past few weeks have been lush ones for four teen aged Malden boys who, police said, found an unlocked safe in a barn containing more than $5,000.

Police said the boys first helped themselves to $25, then $75, and finally went whole hog, taking the remainder of the $5,000.

It supplied the means of "fast living"—trips to New Hampshire in hired automobiles, new clothes and steak dinners, police reported. They said the boys, ranging from 13 to 16 years of age, even supplied funds for an engagement ring, an older boy gave to his sweetheart.

Police were investigating the thefts, reported by the owner, Starr Hall, a laundry operator, when they were called to the home of one of the boys last night.

The parents asked the officers to "advise" the boy what he should do with "a lot of money he had won in a raffle."

Instead they advised the parents the money apparently had been stolen from the safe, rounded-up the rest of the juveniles and re-claimed $2,000.

Will Show Film

The motion picture, "The Healer," will be presented at the Trinity Methodist Church, Wurts and Hunter streets, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

Search for C-47

Frankfurt, Dec. 4 (AP)—Ground rescue parties battled snow, fog and dense woods today in an effort to reach the spot where an American C-47 transport plane, missing since Friday with 20 persons aboard, is believed to have crashed in rugged country in the French Zone of Germany. A 50-foot line of fire—apparently burning oil—which was observed last night by rescue aircraft approximately 15 miles northwest of Kaiserslautern, concentrated the search in that area.

Arab Strike Enters Third Day; Deaths Mount in Palestine

At Least 35 Persons Are Dead in Pillage and Hundreds Are Injured

(By The Associated Press) The death toll mounted today in Palestine's civil strife as an Arab strike protesting partition went through its third and last day. New disorders broke out elsewhere in the Arab world, even as appeals were made by both Arabs and Jews for a halt to the violence. Four new deaths were reported today, bringing to at least 35 the number who have died in the wave of pillage, burning and destruction. Hundreds have been injured. One Arab was killed and several Jews and Arabs were wounded in renewed fighting in the no-man's-land between all-Arab Jaffa and all-Jewish Tel Aviv. A Jewish factory worker was reported shot to death by police in the Jaffa sector. A Jewish truck driver died of knife wounds sustained in yesterday's Jerusalem fighting, and the slashed body of another Jew was found in the center of the Holy City.

For the fourth day Cairo experienced a tumultuous anti-partition demonstration. A crowd estimated at 15,000 paraded, smashed shop windows and fired trunks and automobiles. Police discounted a report that three students were killed and eight were wounded, saying they had no news of casualties. Police fired volleys over the heads of the crowd and charged them with clubs and whips as the demonstrators shouted, "Palestine for the Arabs!" Demonstrators in Iraq set fire to the United States Information Office at Baghdad, wrecked furniture and smashed windows, despite efforts of police to halt them. All Baghdad's Jews were being registered in what was believed to be a precautionary move looking toward possible evacuation of the Jewish population to a safe place. The Jewish quarter of Beirut, Lebanon, was shaken by a bomb explosion, but there were no casualties.

At Lake Success, N. Y., headquarters of the United Nations, Jewish agency officials were reported seeking means for the suppression of the anti-partition rioting in the Holy Land. One source said the agency sought diplomatic pressure by the U. S. State Department on Arab governments in the Middle East and an embargo on materials which might be used to further the Palestine conflict. A committee of Arabs, who returned to Haifa last night from a meeting in Lebanon with Haj Amin el Husseini, exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, issued a plea to Palestine Arabs to "refrain from under Jewish population to a safe place."

Clouds of smoke still hung over Haifa from fires set in last night's rioting. Hagana, the Jewish underground militia, appealed to "disident groups" to join them, and Irgun Zvai Leumi, one of the Jewish underground's dissident units, issued a warning to Arabs against further violence.

Hagana announced that a shipload of 170 unceremonial Jewish immigrants slipped by the British blockade during the night and entered Palestine, scattering at once Jewish settlements in the Tel-Aviv area.

Physicians to X-Ray Head-Joined Babies

Indianapolis, Dec. 4 (AP)—Physicians at the Indiana University Medical Center planned today to make X-ray pictures of the brains of the Speer babies, five-day-old Siamese twins who are joined at the tops of their heads.

Dr. Donald Casely, medical director of the center, said air would be injected into the central nervous systems of the infant boys to enable the physicians to make the pictures.

The babies are joined by a bone three inches in diameter located at normal "soft spots" of their heads. Dr. Casely said they apparently have a common brain tissue. Physicians have expressed hope that a separation operation will be possible.

The babies, who were brought to Riley Hospital for children after their birth at Bedford, Ind., last Saturday, were "reasonably active and took nourishment without difficulty" yesterday, hospital attendants said. They were reported doing well on an ordinary milk formula.

The mother of the babies, Mrs. Edward R. Speer of Bedford, learned only yesterday that they were joined.

Her physician, Dr. Ben Spehenger of Bedford, said that she was "greatly shocked" but that she was recovering rapidly from the effects of a caesarian section. He said she appeared to be "completely out of danger." Her first child died at birth several years ago.

Federal Grand Jury Begins Study of Hollywood Citations

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—A federal grand jury today began investigating the cases against 10 Hollywood movie directors and writers cited for contempt of Congress because they failed to say whether they are Communists. The contempt citations, voted by the House, resulted from the recent investigation of Communism in Hollywood by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Robert E. Stripling, the committee's chief investigator, was the first witness as U. S. Attorney George Morris Fay and an assistant, William Hitz, presented the cases to the 23-man grand jury. The 10 Hollywood figures cited by the House for contempt are Albert Maltz, Dalton Trumbo, Samuel Ornitz, John Howard Lawson, Ring Lardner, Jr., Herbert Biberman, Robert Adrian Scott, Lester Cole, Alvah Bessie, and Edward Dmytryk. President Truman's Loyalty Review Board held a closed session in another downtown Washington building, presumably to have its first look at the highly secret list of organizations classified by the Justice Department as subversive.

Mr. Truman named the review board November 8 to check on loyalty of federal employees. The 20-member group is headed by Seth W. Richardson, a Republican and former assistant attorney general in the Herbert Hoover administration. It includes prominent citizens from all sections of the nation.

The board will function as a sort of Supreme Court on appeals by employees who may be dissatisfied with disposition of their cases by departmental or regional loyalty review groups. It has just completed organization and has considered no individual cases. Attorney General Clark prepared the list of organizations regarded as subversive upon direction of Mr. Truman. The Justice Department is undersized to have turned the roster over to the review board this morning.

Decision whether to publish the list will be up to the board and the Civil Service Commission, the top agencies in the loyalty check.

Truman Takes Rest On 3rd Vacation To Purge Titles

Key West, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—President Truman carried out today his promise to relax on his third Florida vacation. The biggest news coming out of his headquarters at the commandant's use.

He ate bacon and fried mush for breakfast after a long night's sleep. He "feels fine," Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross came to the press room in the nearby bachelors' quarters at 10 a. m. (E.S.T.).

"The President," he said, "had bacon and fried mush for breakfast about 8 a. m., after getting up an hour earlier." "Florida fried mush?" inquired one of the Florida reporters.

"Florida fried mush," Ross confirmed. The President took a two-hour nap shortly after flying here yesterday from Washington for a vacation on the submarine base and a speech Saturday afternoon, at the dedication of the Everglades National Park.

He retired at 11 o'clock last night. Under questioning, Ross disclosed, after disposing of breakfast details, that Mr. Truman wore a tan sports shirt with short sleeves and tan slacks during the morning.

Later, he put on blue bathing trunks for a submergence on the beach near the Old Fort Taylor Club. "The President has had lots of good sleep and feels fine," Ross said. "He will go over his speech tomorrow, but spend most of the day taking it easy, just as he is doing today." The temperature today was in the 70's here. Ross said a final decision would be made late today on whether the President will fly to Naples Saturday and motor to Everglades, or fly to Immokalee and drive from there.

Senate Receives Treaty for Action

Truman Proposes Move for Defense of 19 American Nations

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—President Truman submitted the Inter-American Defense Treaty to the Senate today and asked for its approval. The pact, signed Sept. 2 in Rio de Janeiro, pledges 19 nations of the western hemisphere to act jointly against any aggression in the hemisphere's security zone, stretching from pole to pole and from Greenland and Alaska south to the Falklands.

"The principles, purposes and provisions of the treaty have my complete and wholehearted approval and I am happy to recommend the treaty to the favorable consideration of the Senate," Mr. Truman said in a brief message. Mr. Truman acted three days after Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.), of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for immediate submission of the pact for consideration. Vandenberg, one of the authors of the treaty, said it should be given speedy approval as a demonstration of the "tremendous solidarity" of the North and South American nations. The document must be ratified by the legislative bodies of 19 republics.

Christmas Seal Sale Returns Now

Total $4,978.20

Returns during the first week of the annual Christmas Seal Sale conducted by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association totaled $4,978.20, Edmund F. Rochford, county chairman, announced today. The sale, which opened last Monday with the mail delivery of seals, will continue until Christmas.

Occurring each year during the month before Christmas, the sale is the only appeal made by the tuberculosis association for funds to finance its tuberculosis prevention and control program.

The first week's returns represent about 23 per cent of the 1947 goal of $21,000, Mr. Rochford said. The quota is based on estimated operating expenses for 1948, when Seal Sale funds will be used to support the health educational and promotional program in tuberculosis and venereal disease prevention as well as health building in Ulster county.

Among the various projects carried are the free chest X-ray program for all patients admitted to the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals and to Veterans Hospital in Ellenville, for all student and graduate nurses and personnel; chest X-rays for high school seniors, teachers and personnel; transportation for certain patients to and from chest clinics; and a program in nutrition education. For the past year, a full time rehabilitation program for patients at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital has also been financed by Christmas Seal funds.

"Although the sale will continue until Christmas, it is extremely helpful to the association and to the post office if returns are made early, before the heavy rush of Christmas mail begins," Mr. Rochford said. "We are grateful to those who send in their checks promptly."

It is most gratifying and encouraging to read the various notes which accompany so many of the checks coming in," said Mr. Rochford. "It proves to the committee that our citizens are wholehearted in their contributions to the tuberculosis campaign in Ulster county."

Auto Collision Case Is Adjourned to Monday

City Judge Matthew V. Cahill adjourned until next Monday the case against Peter Louis Secreto, 381 First avenue, who was arrested Tuesday about 1:32 p. m. on a disorderly conduct charge.

The charge arose from a two-car collision early Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Hasbrouck and Delaware avenues. The police said that the Secreto vehicle, proceeding north on Delaware avenue, was in a collision with a car operated by John Ewel, Locust avenue, who was driving south on Hasbrouck avenue.

charges against Secreto and the latter posted $25 bail for appearance in court.

Ewel's car received damage to the left rear fender and running board while the Secreto car received damage to the front end. Officers James Burns and Earl Schoonmaker investigated the accident.

Abraham Lincoln was born in that part of Kentucky which is now LaRue county.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Dec. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ficke, New York couple who spent the summer of 1946 at the J. Jones place on the mountain road, drove up from the city Monday and called on some of their Shokan friends. Mrs. Ficke reports that her father is ill but not confined to his bed. "Herb" is now employed as a foreman at the Borden company's Harlem depot.

Mrs. Henry Goebelin and grandson, Harold Carlson, returned home Sunday evening from Brooklyn where they spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Carlson.

Cards have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spencer announcing their safe arrival in Florida. The Spencers, local property owners and former residents of Shokan, reside in Bridgeport, Conn., and spend their winters in the Indian River country.

A good deer tracking snow fell in the reservoir section on the eve of the last day of the open season. Robert Adit is reported to have been one of the successful late-season hunters. A farmer reports seeing a deer go past his house Monday morning. "Funny," says this farmer, "how they know when the shooting is over!"

December 3, 1947: Olive residents presenting bills to the supervisors for the current year include: Zedec P. ("Zack") Boice, bridge plank, $224; Richard Cole, Ephraim Markle, DeForest Bishop and John Lawton, inspectors of election, $14; Marshall Winn and Benjamin Van Stoenburgh, bridge plank, $31; John Van Kleeck, assessing properties, $42; viewing sheep, $36; Ara Barton, commissioner of highways, $218; Seymour Winnie, Mark Shurtler and Irwin Winnie, ballot clerks, $4.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McWhirer of Brotham were callers in the village Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Volnek of Poughkeepsie spent Thursday with Mrs. Volnek's father, Charles Gilles.

Having a birthday: Mrs. Alanson Stevens, Saturday, December 6. Mrs. Stevens was brought up in the Coons district of Shokan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Bogart. A former resident of New Paltz, she now makes her home in Kingston. She is a frequent visitor at the home of her niece, Mrs. Arthur Carter of Ashokan, and also attends Baptist Church services here.

Mon. of Ulster: Dr. Elbert H. Loughran, who for 40 years was one of the county's best known and most respected physicians, was born March 17, 1852, at Ashland, Greene county, where his grandfather, William Loughran, had been one of the early settlers. His parents, Ferdinand and Margaret (Rodgers) Loughran, removed to Fishkill where Elbert attended school. He removed to Kingston at the age of 17 and studied medicine in the office of his uncle, Major Robert Loughran, who had been an army surgeon in the Civil War. He graduated from Bellevue Medical College in 1873, practiced one year in New Paltz and then became associated with his uncle in Kingston.

Old Testament prophets. A survey reveals that, during the months of October and November, the Ashokan Church had the greatest increase in average attendance for the local Methodist charge (Ashokan, Glenford and West Hurley). The survey was made in conjunction with the current Christ Loyal campaign.

Mrs. John Gilas and four children have gone to New York for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Winchell of the Ashokan mountain road will not be worrying about the high cost of pork. The couple had Elmer Bush butcher their three fat pigs recently.

Mrs. George Giles of the old state road was conveyed to a Kingston hospital Monday. Mrs. Giles was taken to Kingston by her pastor, the Rev. Richard Coons.

Dec. 4, 1873: A very strong southwest wind visited the Shokan area. The snow, which had been 18 inches deep on the preceding night, was all gone by noon.

John and James Rutherford, Tonche neighborhood backlogs, are busy with their business. John does most of the chopping in the home woodlot while Jim handles the team work. They have been selling seasoned chunkwood all fall but are now getting out given stuff. Stovewood sells at $6 a cord, delivered in the twin villages.

Mrs. William Cohen and daughter, Sharon, spent last Thursday with Mrs. Cohen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lippman, in Kingston.

Mrs. Margaret Rainey, oldest citizen of the village center, expects to leave this week for Brown's, where she will spend some time with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gordon, near the aerator park.

Neighboring Marblatown, formed by patent in 1701 and located at about the geographical center of the county, was a lively section in the early 1870's. The old canal village of High Falls, for example, was a big shipping point for bluestone and cement. The Falls had two churches, five stores, two hotels, two meatmarkets, tin shop, gristmill, bakery, cement plant and some 400 inhabitants. Even little Lyonsville, up in the bluestone country against the Olive line, had two hotels and a store. Krippelbush, with only a dozen dwellings, boasted two stores, two cooper shops, a blacksmith and a wagon shop. The town had 16 school teachers and 1,116 children of school age; but apparently the trust officer, if any, was a fellow after a kid's own heart—the average attendance was only 420 pupils.

Members of the town highway force are building fence along the old state road in Shokan and the Brown's Station hill road. There being little or no chestnut any more, posts of seasoned and treated red oak are now used for fencing. Report has it that 6-ft. green oak posts are bringing a dollar apiece at the roadside or elsewhere accessible to trucks. In view of the widespread prevalence of borers in the oak trees of the reservoir country, it might be the smart thing for farmers to forego the long chance on future oak timber, and cash in on the sure crop of 7-inch (top) fence posts.

Memorial for Vets

Forest trees from all parts of the world may be planted on the 30-mile shore of Kataparo Lake, New Zealand, to make it a national war memorial, with the name of a New Zealander who died in the last war on a plaque on every tree.

Supreme Court Cases Handled on Tuesday

In Supreme Court Tuesday a negligence action involving property damage was disposed of when Justice Bookstein directed judgment in the sum of $279 for Nathaniel S. Phillips, plaintiff, against Hugo Feith. Chris J. Flanagan for plaintiff.

Settlement was also announced in No. 138, Benjamin L. Styles and another, co-partners, against Edmund Cellert, negligence. Cashin & Ewig for plaintiffs and Andrew J. Cook for defendant.

A jury was taken in No. 127, William Hoffman against Bryant Gibbs, negligence, and several witnesses were sworn but later the action was settled. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook for defendant.

Another negligence action, No. 131, William J. Schwalbach against DeForest F. Shaver and another, was also settled. Chris J. Flanagan for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for defendant.

Of the extra panel of jurors summoned for attendance Tuesday in court, fifteen were sworn. For duty, the balance of the extra panel on presenting excuses was excused from service. Court recessed until 10 o'clock Wednesday.

It is estimated that 480,000 houses in Britain were totally destroyed or rendered uninhabitable during World War II.

laboratory verified cases. Most of these cases were in the southern tier counties with many of them being in Delaware county our western neighbor. Evidence is very strong that most of these cattle were infected by rabid foxes.

There is also a possibility that a human may be bitten by a rabid fox, as when a fox becomes rabid, it loses all fear and will attack persons or animals.

We are of the opinion that the paying of bounties on foxes will reduce the fox population which will materially lessen the chances of persons or cattle being bitten by rabid foxes.

Dr. George James, Commissioner of Public Health for Ulster county, and Dr. Clifford H. Hoppenstedt, County Veterinarian, recommend that the bounty on foxes be continued so that the fox population may be decreased.

We therefore recommend that the present bounty on foxes be continued.

Struck by Car

Dr. Fred S. Carr reported to police Wednesday that, as he was backing his car into the curb in front of 364 Broadway about 1:30 p. m., a 75-year-old man stepped off the curb and was struck by the rear bumper. The man, William R. Hutton, 106 Clifton avenue, was taken to Kingston Hospital by Dr. Carr, where he was treated for slight abrasion on the left knee, and released, Dr. Carr told police.

Textile Firm, Two Fined Over Million On Wartime Count

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Fines totaling $1,440,000 were imposed in federal court yesterday upon a war-born textile company and two individuals convicted last week of illegal operations in textiles earmarked for the Manhattan District atom bomb project.

The defendant company, Daisart Sports Wear, Inc., formerly of Newark, N. J., its president, George Smith, and Albert J. Deeb, a textile broker, were charged with conspiring to sell finished piece goods above O.P.A. ceilings and of misapplication of W.P.B. priority ratings.

Attaches described the fines as the largest in the history of the U. S. District Court here.

Smith also was sentenced to three years in prison and Deeb to one year.

Samuel Rudykoff, assistant U. S. attorney, told the court that the defendants used priorities to obtain 4,000,000 yards of finished materials, of which 100,000 yards were used for powder bags while at least 3,000,000 others were diverted into the black market. He said the overcharges totaled more than $1,000,000.

Some slight delays were experienced due to traffic handicaps along the line of march, but the motorcade was not far behind schedule in arriving at the entrance to the municipal stadium at North Front street and Washington avenue.

Local police assisted in clearing the way for the parade and handling the crowds in each business district where the motorcade stopped.

General comment on the effect of the lighting and decorations in each area indicated that the people of the city as generally impressed. The business men definitely are satisfied and their opinions were summed up by Chairman Chatham, who said, "everything was wonderful and highly satisfactory."

Gets Alimony Boosted To Buy Longer Dresses

Los Angeles, Dec. 4 (AP)—The "new look" and what it did to Mrs. Vivian DuBois Wilkerson's wardrobe came under judicial scrutiny yesterday.

"Half my clothes aren't long enough," she wailed, testifying about her demand for $800 a month temporary alimony from William R. Wilkerson, 31, Hollywood publisher and cafe owner. "Didn't you tell me you had clothes to last a year or more?" demanded Wilkerson's lawyer, Greg Bautzer.

"That was before I took stock," she protested. "You know very well I've had to let down hems on all my clothes."

Judge Fred Miller listened to Bautzer's suggestion that $300 a month was enough for Mrs. Wilkerson, 31, actress and model, but awarded her $800 a month pending trial of her divorce suit.

Requirement to Get Bonus Hit

Ithaca, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—Elimination of a requirement that veterans must be New York state residents when they apply for the state bonus is sought by the American Legion on the ground that the provision is discriminatory.

State Commander Arthur F. Duffy of Garden City, announcing the Legion's stand at a dinner of Tompkins County Legionnaires last night, said the requirement "discriminated against" otherwise eligible veterans who have moved out of the state to work or to attend college.

The residency requirement, however, was written into the constitutional amendment under which the electorate approved the $400,000 bonus Nov. 4. State legal officials pointed out that it would take two years to eliminate the provision under established procedure for amending the constitution.

Meanwhile, Bonus Director Leo V. Lanning announced in Albany that next of kin of eligible, deceased veterans need not meet the residency requirements.

The bonus law requires that veteran, to be eligible, must have been New York residents at least six months before entering service and must live in the state when they apply for the bonus.

Duffy declared that veterans lose their legal residence here when they vote in another state.

He said several legislators had assured him they were willing to introduce an appropriate measure at the start of the 1948 legislative session early next month.

Any attempt to remove the restriction through constitutional amendment would have to be approved by the 1948 and 1949 Legislatures before being submitted to the people.

The bonus, covering an estimated 1,600,000 World War 2 veterans, was supported by the Legion. Duffy said the Legion would ask that the law be changed to cover all veterans who enlisted or were drafted in New York, or who were legal residents of the state when they went into service.

Lanning, declaring that next of kin need not be residents if the deceased veteran met residency requirements, said that remarriage does not disqualify a widow from top priority.

The bonus law defines next of kin as a widow, widower, children, mother, father, and brothers and sisters in that order.

Bonus application blanks will be distributed Dec. 31 but applications cannot be filed with the State Bonus Bureau in Albany before Jan. 1.

Printers Continue Demand For $15 a Week Pay Boost

Jamestown, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—A printers' strike at the Jamestown Post-Journal moved into its second day today with the publishers planning to get out another abbreviated edition and no hint of a settlement from either side.

The Post-Journal published a 16-page edition at 5 p. m. yesterday, compared to its normal 24-28 page paper which appears at 2:30 p. m.

In a story of the walkout, the paper said it was the first time in the 100-year-history of the Evening Journal, the Morning Post and their successor, the Post-Journal, that a printers' strike had affected publication.

Employees of various departments worked to get the paper on the street, using new teletype-setters and a photoengraving plant.

The strike was called by Local 205 of the A.F.L. International Typographical Union representing 28 compositors, after a deadlock over their demand for a $15 weekly pay hike. A $6 wage boost was rejected. The men earned $65.20 for a 37½ hour week under a contract which expired Sunday.

Big Development Revealed

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Plans for a $39,000,000 housing development in the Riverdale section of the Bronx to provide accommodations for 3,000 families were revealed yesterday before the city planning commission when a group of residents of the area appeared before the commission to protest a proposal to permit a zone change to allow for construction of the project.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of filtering the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatoid pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or painful urination with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Washington Has Own Bishop for First Time

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Washington's Roman Catholics will have their own archbishop for the first time. Pope Pius XII early today appointed Bishop Francis P. Keough to be archbishop of Baltimore and the Right Rev. Msgr. Patrick A.

O'Boyle to be archbishop of Washington. Washington once was a part of the Baltimore Archdiocese. Although it was separated years ago, the late Archbishop Michael

J. Curley continued to administer both areas. Bishop Keough now is bishop of Providence, R. I., and Monsignor O'Boyle is executive director of

Catholic Charities in the New York Archdiocese. Siamese Twins Born Indianapolis, Dec. 3 (AP)—Siamese twins joined at the top of

Loss of Chair Start of New Career for Franchot Paige

Woodstock, Dec. 3—Over a period of 34 years, during most of which time Franchot Paige of Bearsville was associated with the General Electric Company in Schenectady, Washington and New York in an executive capacity, he collected many tools, because he liked them. However, he rarely ever used them.

Following a severe illness, and upon advice of his physician, he came to Woodstock in 1931 and shortly thereafter began to find out what his various tools were used for. It all happened when one of his outdoor chairs was washed away with the high waters of the Sawkill Creek. Mrs. Paige suggested that he make a chair to replace the one which had been lost. That seemed like a large order at the time but he went to work and after putting the chair together and taking it apart at least ten times, succeeded in achieving just what he wanted in the way of a comfortable outdoor chair. Needless to say he was very proud of this accomplishment and made another one. Some friends who saw the famous Paige chair were so impressed with it they asked Mr. Paige to make a set for them which he did. Not long after this order was filled, he made some more and put them out by his mail box. Passersby saw the chairs and purchased them immediately. This was all most encouraging to the man who never really knew one tool from another.

In the early days of Mr. Paige's chair making business Woodstock was not so fortunate as to have its Guild of Craftsmen where fine pieces of craftsmanship are displayed and sold. However, Anita Smith and Alice Henderson who were opening Stonecrop, their well known herb garden and shop, heard of Mr. Paige and ordered some of the chairs. Since then, about 500 chairs have found their way into Woodstock gardens. Besides Woodstock, however, the Paige chairs are to be found in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, along the St. Lawrence River, Long Island, Connecticut and the southern states.

Makes Other Items

This fine craftsman has branched out and for several years has included outdoor tables, children's stools and a fireside bench which is a copy of an old antique. In the beginning, these various pieces were made of redwood which Mr. Paige prefers using. However, during and since the war, this wood has been difficult to get and he has used white pine.

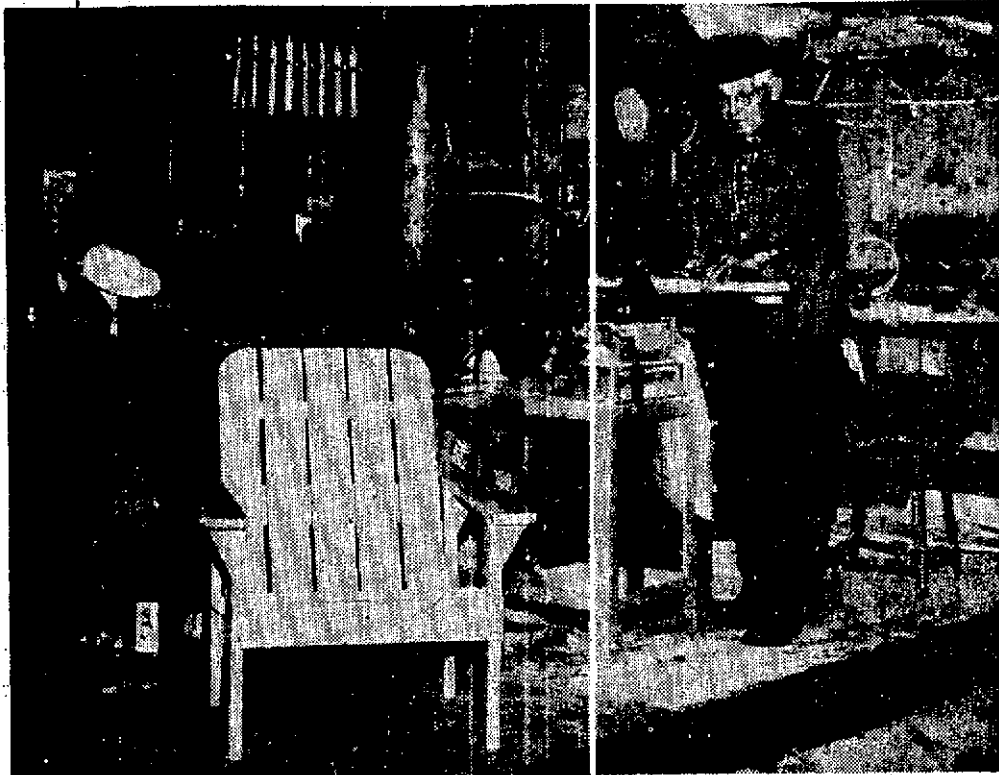

The most important features in the chair are the strength, slopes, and height. Another interesting thing about it is the fact that the back can be turned over and the chair can be used for a table. Sixty-eight screws are put into each chair. No nails are used. A member of the medical profession, who has seen the chair, was most enthusiastic about its use for arthritic and paralytic patients.

So far as Mr. Paige knows, he is the first craftsman in his family, although there have been many well known musicians, including his father, who for 53 years was the organist in St. George's Church, Schenectady, and was also the organist in Union College prior to his graduation. His first cousin is the mother of Franchot Tone, Hollywood actor.

Most important to Mr. and Mrs. Paige at this time is the fact that their young grandson shows great promise as a craftsman, having made some extremely interesting copper pieces which he has presented to his grandparents.

A fine shop with lathes and hundreds of small tools is located on the Paige property, but Mr. Paige, who considers his fine business as his hobby and favorite pastime, admitted that as in the past he still has many tools which have never been used and looks forward to the day when he can experiment to learn their use.

Palestine Situation Aired Before Discussion Group

Mrs. Gertrude Kauffman Gives Interesting Talk on Problems in Holy Land

Woodstock, Dec. 3—One of the most interesting sessions of the Woodstock Discussion Group this season was the talk given on Sunday evening by Mrs. Gertrude Kauffman of Palestine in the home of Mrs. Nelson T. Parker, Woodstock. While Mrs. Kauffman had chosen for her subject "The Folk Art Movement in Palestine," the large audience plied her with questions about the general political situation in that country as well and learned that the majority in Palestine are not all in sympathy with the Terrorists, who she stated are a small group of a few thousand persons who have been badly misled and misguided.

About 37 years ago, Mrs. Kauffman, a native of Germany, with a group of central European youth left their "well to do homes" to carry out their ideologies in Palestine. There they hoped to begin a new life in every sense, politically, humanly, socially and economically. Said the speaker, "We were willing to create our life from the beginning and we actually did it." This beginning in Palestine was described by Mrs. Kauffman who told of the early experiences of the group who lived in tents and began to cultivate the land which was difficult for them because they had no previous experience in this work. However, through study and hard work they accomplished what they started out to do and gradually built their communal settlements as they are called. She said, "We are socialists but not communists ever." We live together in a communal way, have no money of our own. A room is given to each couple but the children are all together in their settlement. Everyone is assigned a job to do and at the end of the day, the parents call for their children and take them to their room for visiting, or play outdoors with them, read or whatever they would like to do. The speaker believed these parents really have more free time with their own offspring than do the American parents.

Raising children in this type of community was interesting, to those present who learned that shortly after a child is born, it is taken to the babies house where it is cared for by nurses until it is two years old. At this age, the babies are taken into the nursery school then to the kindergarten until they are six when they enter the school community.

Towns Spring Up

According to Mrs. Kauffman, the founding generation was an elite group but over the years came lots of other people and "during the last years the Hitler fugitives have come in large numbers. There has been a huge development of towns and cities, especially Tel-Aviv which is a beautiful city. The great achievement, however, is not the modern town but rather the settlements. These are the big, new and our own Palestinian achievement."

Although Mrs. Kauffman said she would not speak about "art" in general because her preoccupation is folk art, she did nevertheless describe the magnificent strides made by the young people in the field of music. There are two fine symphony orchestras, the personnel of which is composed of those who for the most part work in the fields all day and practice and play in the evenings.

Best Years of Life

"We are in a unique position in Palestine," said the speaker, "and continued, "I think we are the only people in the world who are now actually developing a folk art. Where else in the world do you have a place where the rural population is the spiritual center? In the first years, our people in the settlement were so preoccupied with their agricultural work they had not much time left for cultural achievements. You know, probably, our people do all the work themselves. That is one of the fundamental parts of living in this settlement. They have no help from other people. We began at the beginning and had to learn to do it all by ourselves. We lived in tents. I remember living in a small military tent with my husband and two children and very often when it was stormy, our tent would blow away. Don't think we felt it as a sacrifice. Not at all. As I look back, I think they were the best years of our life. We were enriched spiritually and physically."

After about 15 years, Mrs. Kauffman told her audience, the settlement people had time to pursue the culture they had brought from their homelands, and now that the children are growing up and feel the urge to create, they believe it very important to have their folk art, and they are beginning to subsidize their painters, sculptors and musicians. They are also teaching the arts to the youth and older members of the community. So far, however, the greatest interest has been in dancing.

"It is interesting to see the short history of the folk dancing because it reflects our growing more independent of foreign influences. The photographs of many of the dances were shown during Mrs. Kauffman's talk as well as playing records of their music. The search in the bible and elsewhere for descriptions of early dances was related as well as the fact that artists tried to make revivals of biblical dances with their own fantasies. Some of the dances were considered "too oriental" for our youth in Palestine, especially the hip and foot movements," said Mrs. Kauffman, and then, "I know you will tell me folk culture and folk dances develop in hundreds of years, but I can't wait that long. All of our things are developing in such a hot house tempo because we had no other choice, so why not folk dances, too? I know we are not allowed to call them folk dances, but I hope they are the beginning of the folk dances which will be passed on from generation to generation. The whole world is so not fitting for making a new folk culture because the professionals in Hollywood are killing the homespun, homelife ideas of culture."

Difficulties Described
The difficulties with which they had to cope on the occasion of the last festival when 30,000 people attended, were depicted. These difficulties grew out of the night curfew which the English had put into effect and it was necessary to keep the audience entertained constantly from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until four the next morning so they would not appear on any of the roads after dark. The festival is a very gay affair where all are dressed in costumes, many flags are displayed, food is served and the entertainment includes orchestras, folk dances, as well as choir singing.

Mrs. Kauffman described in detail the visitations of D.P. camps following the World Festival of Democratic Youth in Prague last July, to which she took 120 of the young people from Palestine, who gave innumerable performances of folk dances. These youngsters had never before been out of Palestine. "This was a wonderful event for them, overshadowed only by the complete lack of hope expressed by persons in the camps."

In reply to queries about the partition of Palestine, Mrs. Kauffman said, "If the partition will be accomplished as it is planned, then we will get the part of the country we have already settled in but there is a lot more room for bringing in immigrants from the D.P. camps. We will also get the desert. It is desert now but in Biblical times they had vegetation and water. Some years ago our young people began experimenting in the desert and they have proved that it is possible to make agriculture there."

She then told the story about an Englishman who wanted to see the work the young people were doing in the desert. They accompanied him and he saw a spot of green and remarked, "You see one green spot and the Jews are sitting there." The speaker also intimated the possibility of oil in the desert, which is very encouraging. The Turks and Arabs, according to the speaker, have tried to do something with the desert but without success.

"We feel many more inhabitants can live in our part of Palestine than in the Arab section because we use modern methods of agriculture while the Arabs still operate as they did in medieval times."

Rich Oppose Ideas
Mrs. Kauffman also told the group that the Jews and Arabs get along very well and can live together if the English aren't around to disturb them. Another reason she gave for their difficulties and the work of the Terrorists is the fact that the rich Arab owners are against the new ideas introduced by the settlement people. The workers form the most important party politically in Palestine but the Terrorists have had a great deal more publicity. This latter group said the speaker "are on the wrong track and I would like the people in America to know this. Their actions are very dangerous in the impressions created in other parts of the world. It was learned that the conditions in the big cities are different than those to be found in the community settlements. There is a mixed population "with very commercial people. Some you are not proud of. We have a very powerful industrial development in the town. We have factories in the settlements also. The latter produce on a cooperative basis."

About the assimilation of the D.P.'s and the present group, Mrs. Kauffman believes it will be a huge task but she said, "They are our people and we have no choice. We must do it. The children will be one of the main problems because of what they have gone through during the war years and since. "It will probably spoil us but we can do nothing else."

And again about the Terrorists, the speaker said, "You people in America all believe that without them, we would not have gained as much as we have. We don't believe these few soldiers mean anything. The English would not leave Palestine if they could hold it. They will stay if the Americans give them the money to hold. England has neither the money nor the soldiers to hold it any more. We have much greater force than the Terrorists. It is a restrained force. The English know that but the Americans don't because they have been misinformed. The Terrorists were the accomplices of the English. When it was good for the English to have trouble in Palestine, they stirred it up. The Terrorists have done little or nothing for Palestine."

Many expressed surprise at the information given by Mrs. Kauffman and wondered why such information had not been imparted before. Mrs. Bernard Pauker of Kingston, who is the political affair chairman of Hadassah, explained that most of their talking is done for Jewish groups and that perhaps was the reason the general public had not been informed.

It was pointed out too that none of the Terrorists belong to the workers' organization. Most of their leaders are uneducated Jews of Oriental communities. They are inclined to be threatened and they are filled with hate which is not unusual in view of the 6,000,000 Jews who have been murdered explained Mrs. Kauffman and she said, "In view of this it is very difficult for some of the young not to go haywire. We can't fight them with bloodshed because they are our brothers and sisters. It is very difficult for us because we are so opposed to it all. The Terrorists are not a large group numerically, just a few thousand, but they have large mouths."

About the form of government for the partition, Mrs. Kauffman said it will be democratic and "I hope socialistic."

Mrs. Kauffman will remain in the United States for a year during which time she will teach their folk dances to Zionist groups through the country.

The seven nations in the Arab League have an area nearly 150 times the size of Palestine.

Services Marking Jewish State Birth Are Well Attended

Special services Wednesday night in the synagogue of Congregation Agudas Achaim were well attended by members of the Jewish faith and others in sympathy with the founding of the Jewish State in Palestine.

The program of thankfulness, sponsored by the Kingston Zionist District of America and Kingston Hadassah organization, featured talks by two rabbis, Frank D. Plotke and Herbert I. Bloom.

There was a special musical program. The service was arranged to commemorate the creation on November 29 of the Jewish State in Palestine by vote of the United Nations Assembly.

The following commentary on the recent action by the U. N. has been made by the Kingston Zionist movement:

"In the creation of a Jewish State, a milestone has been reached in the history of the world. In endorsing the plan to set up separate Jewish and Arab states in Palestine, the United Nations has ended 2,000 years of national homelessness for the Jewish people. The deep emotion experienced by Jews throughout the world today cannot be conveyed in words, for all the hopes and aspirations of Jewry, growing out of centuries of persecution and humiliation, have been concentrated on this one day of fulfillment.

"On behalf of the organized Kingston Zionist movement, we the Kingston Zionist District and the Kingston Hadassah Organization, in the name of the American Zionist Emergency Council, wish to share Jewry's profound joy at this moment with the millions of Americans of all races and creeds who have fought side by side with us during the past years to achieve this measure of justice. Without the wholehearted support of American public opinion, this great victory for humanity could not have been brought about. Throughout a long succession of crises and setbacks the American people have remained steadfast in their determination that Jewish national homelessness and persecution must cease.

"Our deep thanks go out to all of the governments which voted to set up independent Jewish and Arab states in Palestine. We are particularly mindful of the great efforts devoted to the achievement of this decision by the delegations of the United States and the Soviet Union, to whom we convey our profound gratitude. We thank also the British Dominions, the European countries, and the Latin American nations who endorsed the creation of the Jewish State.

"Difficult days may yet be ahead of us. We do not wish to minimize the dangers that may confront the Jewish State. We are confident, however, that the citizens of that State can defend their Statehood and that American public opinion will remain constantly on the alert to safeguard it.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Don't Open Same For Suit and N. T.

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for N.E.A. Service

At suit contracts a very high proportion of the 13 tricks are won by aces, kings, queens and jacks. In no trump contracts a race usually develops between the declarer and the defenders as to which one can first set up the small cards in a long suit.

For example if the opponents arrive at a four heart contract and you hold the A-K 8 5 3 of spades you can expect to take no more than the ace and king. Against a no trump contract, however, you stand an excellent chance of winning tricks with your small spades. Consequently, your opening Lead with the A-K 8 5 3 of spades, will depend on whether the opponents are in a suit contract or in a no trump contract.

Against the three no trump contract on today's hand, if West had elected to open the king of spades in order to "look at dummy" declarer would have fulfilled his contract easily. No matter what West would lead at trick two, declarer would have time to knock out East's diamond ace, thereby establishing his own diamond suit.

But when West opened a small spade declarer could take no more than eight tricks—four clubs, three hearts and a spade. When declarer knocked out East's diamond ace, East returned his remaining spade, and West's eight and three of spades both became winners.

Had South been in a suit contract rather than three no trump the correct opening lead would have been the king of spades.

Holes Are Cut in Doors To Assist Science

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 3 (AP)—They're cutting holes through floors and stairways at Worcester Polytechnic Institute—in the interest of science.

The holes are for an extremely painstaking experiment to measure the speed of light. Prof. William B. Wadsworth who is conducting the experiment, said it has never been done accurately before.

Contrary to popular belief, he said, the speed of light is not 186,000 miles per second but something over 185,999 miles. "We propose to find out just what it is," he added.

Renovations Add Space to Store

900 Square Feet Gained at Firestone Outlet

Renovations which add approximately 900 square feet of floor space to the store of Bernie Singer, 71-73 North Front street, are completed and the space is currently in use for additional stock, the proprietor of the store announced today.

The improvements at the store are in line with a general trend on the uptown street since the rebuilding of the thoroughfare last summer.

A wall which had partitioned off the store area recently added was broken through near the rear of the structure. This was done, the proprietor said, to allow for more efficient service and the general handling and placing of stock.

The store, which is one of the largest on the street has a separate service department and warehouse, both of considerable size, and the main store space is now about 70 feet long.

The establishment carries a variety of Firestone home and auto supplies and it currently features toys and other items for the accommodation of the Christmas trade.

Rise Drops 'Z'

Los Angeles, Dec. 3 (AP)—Opera singer Rise Stevens has dropped the "z" from her name. What? Well, her married name is Mrs. Walter Geza Szurovy. To simplify the last name she and her husband, the Vienna-born actor, and their son, Nicholas Vincent, 3, petitioned Superior Court for permission to drop the silent "z" and make the name Szurovy. Superior Judge Frank G. Swain granted the petition yesterday when their attorney appeared in court. Miss Stevens and her family are in New York where she is appearing at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Polio Course Is Well Attended by Nurses of Section

About 75 nurses from all parts of Ulster county are attending the daily afternoon and evening session of the Poliomyelitis Training Institute at the Kingston City Laboratory. It was announced today. These courses will continue today and Friday from 1 to 3:30 p. m. and 7 to 9:30 p. m.

Tuesday's and Wednesday's sessions consisted of demonstrations and talks by Dr. Herbert Johnson on "Signs, Symptoms, Diagnosis and Medical Treatment of Acute Poliomyelitis Patients," and Dr. J. Benedictine Auxiliary Elects Mrs. G. F. Einterz President at Annual Meeting and Christmas Tea

Mrs. George F. Einterz was elected president of the Benedictine Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary at the annual meeting and Christmas tea Wednesday afternoon held in the Nurses' Home. Also elected for next year were Mrs. Allen A. Baker, retiring president, first vice president; Mrs. Charles E. Davis, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Egan, third vice president; Mrs. James A. During the short business meeting annual reports were read, those of the secretary prepared by Mrs. Arthur Nash, by Mrs. Marie Gilpatrick and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Walter L. Foster. The balance in the treasury was reported as $216.23.

Raises Pledge
Because of the unexpected financial success of the Easter Monday Ball, the auxiliary voted to raise its pledge of $8,000 to the building fund for the hospital to $5,000. Since only $66 was lacking to meet this goal, it was voted to take this sum from the treasury. The sum from the ball given to the hospital earlier this year was $3,483.64.

Mrs. Davis announced the following new members: Miss Cornelia Kane and the Mmes. Anthony L. Mauceri, Harry Beck, Frank Hopper, Edward Noonan, Ambrose J. Lemay-Amidon Marriage Announced; Maverick Players

Announcement of the wedding of Miss Priscilla Jeannette Amidon of New York to Harding James Lemay, also of New York, has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bolton Amidon of Washington.

The wedding ceremony was performed November 8 at the Little Church Around the Corner (Church of the Transfiguration), New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemay are at home at 30 Cannon street, New York.

The couple will be remembered locally through their outstanding work last summer as members of the Maverick Players, Woodstock, where they were seen in many plays.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemay were two of the most outstanding performers in the company, which revived summer repertoire at the famed little theatre in the woods after several years in the woods after their parts in the cast of the troupe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemay assumed, as did the majority of the company, strenuous offstage duties contingent upon the operation of the theatre.

The final play in which they were seen during the summer was the stellar performances in "No Exit," the vehicle which concluded the season's performances.

A Hand-Shaking Dog Is Pride of Family

Everybody shakes hands. Why not your dog?

Think how delighted everybody would be with your pet this Christmas if he joined you at the door by shaking hands with your friends as they come to call.

Teaching the dog to shake hands is fairly simple. First make him take his sitting down position. Squat down to his level and as you face him, tap him under the hands!

When he lifts his foot as a result of your tap, shake his paw and say, "That's the boy" or some such friendly phrase and give him a small bite of reward food.

Start with one particular foot and use the same foot until he has perfected the lesson.

Never let him do any trick unless you ask him to do it. Shaking hands may become habitual if not curbed by stopping him with "No! No!" when he performs without being so ordered.

You can teach your dog to lie down, speak, hush, roll over, pick things up, play dead—by following the directions in our Reader Service booklet No. 78. Care, feeding, grooming included.

Send 25¢ (coin) for "How To Raise and Train Your Dog" to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th Street, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address with zone, booklet title and No. 78.

Reception for Their Daughter
Better

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancé and I are to be married soon and we would like a big wedding and reception. However, my parents cannot afford a large wedding. My fiancé's family, who are well off financially, want to have the wedding and reception at their home. Would it be so wrong for us to accept their offer?

Answer: The prejudice against permitting the bridegroom's family to give a wedding reception is that it unavoidably belittles the bride's own family. But if they and your parents have been friends long and you are using their big house merely for the preparations made by your family, this might preclude criticism. Otherwise, it would be in best taste to have a simple wedding and let your future family-in-law give you a big reception when you return from your wedding trip as their daughter.

Not Impossible to Invite Acquaintances

Dear Mrs. Post: Could I be misunderstood as a "pusher" in the following instance? There are many women whom I have met in the past year at the afternoon parties of our mutual friends. While these women never have asked me to their houses, they are very friendly. May I ask them and their husbands, whom I do not know, to a large cocktail party when my husband and I will give soon when a dear friend from abroad is visiting us?

Answer: It is entirely a question as to how you feel about them. If you feel that you know them at all well, you quite properly may invite them.

Mrs. Post's booklet, "Table Service," No. 504, explains how to mark and fold napkins, how to place the flat silver, how to arrange the flowers and candlesticks, as well as many other helpful rules of etiquette. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to the Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

KEEP AWAY IF YOU HAVE A COLD

The following letter is a difficult one to answer courteously because my opinion on it is very positive. The question asked is: "If a friend who has a cold comes and sits next to you, must you, in order to be polite, say nothing and let him or her tell you how to keep away from you and very certainly be considered rude and even possibly lose his friendship?"

Not only do I approve of your saying, "Please don't come near me," but I should like to have a law passed—and enforced—requiring everyone who has a cold to wear gauze mask. This would not eliminate colds, but it would prevent the unnecessary spreading of them.

ily to give a wedding reception is that it unavoidably belittles the bride's own family. But if they and your parents have been friends long and you are using their big house merely for the preparations made by your family, this might preclude criticism. Otherwise, it would be in best taste to have a simple wedding and let your future family-in-law give you a big reception when you return from your wedding trip as their daughter.

Not Impossible to Invite Acquaintances

Dear Mrs. Post: Could I be misunderstood as a "pusher" in the following instance? There are many women whom I have met in the past year at the afternoon parties of our mutual friends. While these women never have asked me to their houses, they are very friendly. May I ask them and their husbands, whom I do not know, to a large cocktail party when my husband and I will give soon when a dear friend from abroad is visiting us?

Answer: It is entirely a question as to how you feel about them. If you feel that you know them at all well, you quite properly may invite them.

Mrs. Post's booklet, "Table Service," No. 504, explains how to mark and fold napkins, how to place the flat silver, how to arrange the flowers and candlesticks, as well as many other helpful rules of etiquette. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to the Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Nurse Injures Knee
Sergeants James P. Martin and Lemuel Howard of the Kingston Police Department reported that at 8:10 p. m. Wednesday Blanche Wilcox, a nurse at Kingston Hospital, accidentally fell down the steps in the main entrance at the city hall. At the time of the fall, the police officers said, Miss Wilcox was looking at the service honor rolls on the walls on the main floor. She sustained a bruised knee cap, but was able to complete her work on the midnight to 8 a. m. shift at the hospital this morning, authorities there reported.

Jet Fighter Completes Test Hop

The Air Force's first swept-back fighter, XP-86, with its wings slanting to the rear at a 35-degree angle, cruises over Muroc Air Base, Calif., after completing its initial flight tests. Now undergoing more extensive testing, the jet craft was designed to approach nearer sonic speed than any other fighter plane under actual combat conditions.

Communism Charge Refuted by C.I.O. Head

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Former Welfare Commissioner Edward E. Rhatigan was described by a labor leader yesterday as "a frustrated office seeker" who tried to obtain C.I.O. support for personal political advancement. The assertion was made by Jack Bigel, president of the New York district's C.I.O. United Public Workers Union which Rhatigan had charged with consistently following the Communist party line. The union's membership includes an estimated 90 per cent of the welfare department's supervisory personnel. "At almost every conference with the union," Bigel said at a news conference, "Mr. Rhatigan asked for C.I.O. support for higher political office. In the course of 22 months, Mr. Rhatigan proposed himself for the governorship, the cabinet post of federal secretary of the department of welfare, deputy mayor, director of the city division of labor relations and chairman of a state program for refugee aid." The ex-commissioner, who resigned last October 24 under pressure, made his charge in testimony Tuesday before a state board of social welfare committee which is investigating New York city's relief setup. Bigel asserted that his union followed no party line. "We follow only one line and that is the C.I.O.," he said.

Plans Expeditionary Army for Palestine

Boston, Dec. 4 (AP)—Plans for a 250,000-man Palestine expeditionary army to be led by "American generals" were disclosed last night by Rabbi Baruch Korff, 32, who was arrested several months ago in Paris on charges of planning to drop Zionist propaganda leaflets on London. The American Rabbi told a news conference that the volunteer army would be formed within a few months under sponsorship of the American Political Action Committee for a free Palestine. He said the group expected "United Nations sanctions and financing." Vitamins have been shown to have an effect on some forms of insanity.

State's Whiteface Ski Center Will Open This Winter

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—The state-developed Whiteface Mountain Ski Center in the upper Adirondacks will be opened formally this winter, the State Commerce Department announced today in launching a winter sports promotional campaign. The department said ski facilities would be opened for the first time in "a number of areas," including Gloversville, Stamford, South Colton, Boonville and Carthage. The first of several lifts, a 3,200-foot T-bar lift on Marble Mountain, one of the Whiteface peaks in northern Essex county, is expected to be in operation by mid-January, the department added. It described the Whiteface project as the state's largest. The department also announced an "improved service" in distribution of snow reports through U. S. Weather Bureau stations throughout the state.

Vet Proposes Peace Bonds Of Small Denomination

Portland, Ore., Dec. 4 (AP)—A young veteran proposed today that the International Bank sell small denomination bonds—"peace bonds," he'd call them—to give the public a personal stake in world affairs. The International Bank, set up at Bretton Woods and Savannah, Ga., monetary conferences to provide loans for reconstruction and development, is now selling only large denomination bonds. John Hakanson, Vanport College student, suggested $25 "peace bonds," similar to "E" war bonds, be sold by the bank in all countries to "stimulate the individual's interest in world affairs and bind him closer to people of other countries through mutual financial interests." The proposal, backed by the American Veterans Committee, has been submitted to the International Bank.

Cites Tombstones as Vital In Recording Statistics

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—State Historian Albert B. Corey urged today that abandoned cemeteries in the state be preserved as "important records of vital statistics prior to 1880." "There are abandoned cemeteries in practically every town in the state that are eye-sores," he said in a statement, adding that state law requires the upkeep of all burial grounds whether on public or private property. The recording of vital statistics was not authorized by law until 1880, Corey explained. "A tombstone is frequently the only record. Where this is the case, the evidence on the tombstone has been held satisfactory in court," he said. The statement followed a successful campaign by the Dutchess County branch of the Schenectady County Historical Society to enforce the provision requiring towns to maintain any land which has been used as a cemetery or burial ground for 14 years. Town boards are not required by the law to spend more than $100 a year on each such cemetery. Vitamins are produced by everything that lives.

Tattooed Lady's Quiet Strangler Free Again

Baltimore, Dec. 4 (AP)—After one year in jail, mouselike Lawrence Riemer, 37, will have paid his debt for strangling his wife, the tattooed lady.

Judge Joseph Sherborn, in imposing the minimum sentence for manslaughter, said the meek little piano player "strangled his wife in order to shut off her torrent and verbal abuse."

Riemer, a "completely non-aggressive individual," spent "four months of tortured existence" with shrewish Agnes Riemer, 37, tattooed lady, in a sidekick "without former husband hanged himself," the judge said.

Marello, Ferguelli

testimony was supported by F.B.I. Agent Louis B. Hurley of Kingston.

Cramer said in 21 years on the Kingston police force, he had never seen a rubber hose used on a prisoner.

A statement by Ferguelli to Kingston police was read by F.B.I. Agent L. P. Hurley, Jr. It contained an admission by the defendant that he drove the Fitzwater woman out of the city as a "favor" to Marello.

Ferguelli testified that he signed the statement because he feared a rubber hose whipping, and that he did not know what was in it at the time.

Under cross-examination, Ferguelli said he did not know the numbers of the highways followed en route to Kingston and that the enumeration of them in the statement were included by the police without his knowledge. Judge Ben Moore specified that the statement was to be considered as evidence against Ferguelli only.

Marello denied discussing or making plans with anyone to bring about Miss Fitzwater's absence.

Says Ferguelli Had Date

He testified that Ferguelli made a date with Miss Fitzwater and had asked for the loan of his car, planning to drive to Montgomery, W. Va., with her and allowing the automobile to be returned by another woman, who Marello identified as a "Verna Hicks."

Marello said when Ferguelli and the automobile did not appear the next day he made a check of hospitals to learn whether his friend had been injured in an accident, and later telephoned a cousin, Tony Carpio, in Kingston in an effort to locate the car.

Mrs. Fitzwater said she was pined with liquor and given coffee to drink, and it was after the latter that she fell asleep in the car, awaking to find herself en route to New York.

Says She Was Happy

After the statement attributed by F.B.I. agents to Ferguelli was read, a defense witness, Louis Cicero, said the defendant's alleged victim, far from being unconscious during the trip, had been "awake, sober," and "seemed pretty happy."

Miss Cicero testified she had worked in Marello's home before the alleged abduction, taking care of his wife.

The Ferguelli statement, related that Ferguelli came from Kingston to Charleston at Marello's request, and that Marello had told his co-defendant that it would be a "great favor" to him if he would take Mrs. Fitzwater out of the state.

The statement, read by Special F.B.I. Agent Louis P. Hurley, Jr., continued that Mrs. Fitzwater had been drinking when Ferguelli met her the night of September 15, and that when she protested during the trip to New York, Ferguelli told her he had "fixed it" so that her testimony would not be missed at Marello's trial.

The statement added that Ferguelli told Mrs. Fitzwater he planned to introduce her to his family and that he would marry her, and that she evidently believed his statements, although they were "untruths."

The Cicero girl testified that she accompanied Ferguelli and Mrs. Fitzwater to Kingston and

Champion Steer Brings $8 a Pound

Chicago, Dec. 4 (AP)—The grand champion steer of the 48th International Livestock Exposition, Big Boy, an 1100-pound roan short-horn, sold at auction today for $8 a pound. The bid was $250 a pound less than that bid for the 1946 grand champion last year.

The successful bidder today was Wilson and Company, buying for the Davidson Meat Company, Chicago.

Bert Overman, chief cattle buyer for Wilson, said the steer would be slaughtered and distributed to hotels and restaurants on its customer list.

The steer, bought by Claude Millwee, 18-year-old Fort Cobb, Okla., farm boy for $75 and fattened to the king of this year's beef animals, may bring him $8,800 if the steer has not lost any weight during the show. The 1,100 pounds was the animal's weight when he was crowned grand champion on Tuesday.

Public and Press Excluded From Court

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—The public and the press were excluded today from the trial of John W. Meyer, rotund party-giving press agent for Howard Hughes, millionaire industrialist on the complaint of Patricia Miles, former night club cigarette girl, that Meyer fattened her 10-month-old son Douglas.

When the case was called in Special Sessions Court after a delay of more than an hour, the courtroom was jammed with spectators. Counsel for Miss Miles immediately entered a motion that the public be excluded and presiding Justice Nathan D. Perlman granted it.

Justice Perlman then announced that the approximately 24 newsmen in the courtroom also were excluded by a majority vote of the court, which comprised Perlman and Justices John V. Flood and Alfred S. Hoffman.

Meyer, the girl and the baby were given blood tests Tuesday. The tests were ordered by the court at Meyer's request.

That Mrs. Fitzwater frequently gave directions on the way.

The girl said Mrs. Fitzwater had frequent opportunities to leave the party en route.

Schlegelberger Is Convicted of Crime Against Humanity

Former Minister of Justice and One of Leading Legal Figures May Be Executed

Nuernberg, Germany, Dec. 4 (AP)—Franz Schlegelberger, former acting German minister of justice and the main defendant in the American case against Adolf Hitler's leading legal lights, was convicted today of war crimes and crimes against humanity.

Schlegelberger, whose conviction carries with it the possibility of a death sentence, was the first of 14 defendants to hear the judgment of an American war crimes tribunal which has been hearing charges against former officials of the Nazi Ministry of Justice since March 5.

All of them were accused of perverting German justice to suit the criminal aims of the Nazis in waging aggressive war and exterminating political opponents and of "judicial murder."

Some of the defendants were associated with the notoriously ruthless "people's court."

Herbert Klemm, formerly state secretary of the Reich Ministry of Justice, a former Hamburg judge and friend of the missing Martin Bormann, was the second to be convicted of war crimes and crimes against humanity.

Klemm was held particularly responsible for inciting the German populace to murder Allied airmen forced down inside the Reich and for his part in the execution of 800 political prisoners in eastern Germany's Sonnenburg penitentiary when it was evacuated before the advancing Russians.

Both Klemm and Schlegelberger were absent from the dock because of illness as the court read its judgments, one by one.

Kurt Rothenberger, another of the secretaries of state in the Nazi Justice Ministry, was convicted on the same charges.

The court ruled that although he was removed from office because he was not sufficiently brutal, Rothenberger had aided the Nazi program of racial persecution and had participated in the "corruption and perversion" of the judicial system by subordinating the courts "to the arbitrary will of Hitler."

Cabinet Considers Policy

London, Dec. 4 (AP)—The cabinet considered today future British policy toward Palestine and the date for surrendering Britain's mandate. Among subjects before Prime Minister Attlee and his government were the manner of handing over power to the United Nations Commission; approval of a timetable for pulling out approximately 70,000 troops and 210,000 tons of supplies; settlement of British assets and liabilities in Palestine; and Britain's future relations with the new Arab and Jewish states. There was no official indication of decisions.

New Strikes Break Out

Rome, Dec. 4 (AP)—New strikes and disorders broke out in Italy today amid persistent rumors of an impending shakeup in the cabinet of the Christian Democratic premier, Alcide De Gasperi. The Interior Ministry reported police at Ragusa, Sicily, were forced to fire on demonstrators who attempted to destroy a shipment of U. S. coal. Striking asphalt miners declared the imports prejudiced their demands.

Russian Economy

Kingston said the residents of Moscow seemed to consider as true rumors that the Kremlin would decree a new currency tomorrow and that later new and higher prices would be ordered into effect. Any scaling down of the value of the ruble or raising prices for consumer goods would be a harsh blow to savings. Together, such actions would have the same effect as inflation in the forms made familiar in China and other countries.

There, inflation is measured in terms of foreign currencies and prices have assumed astronomical proportions. In Russia, however, the ruble has an arbitrarily decreed value of 20 American cents, although foreign diplomats have been permitted an exchange rate of eight to the dollar. There is no free convertibility, as in the case of French francs and dollars and English pounds and dollars.

The word of Russia's economic woes broke into print with startling suddenness. Dispatches of American and other news correspondents in Moscow have given no hint of any such developments. But these dispatches must be sent over Soviet-controlled transmission facilities.

As received here from sources in a position to know, the information is that Moscow last week was on a phenomenal buyers' spree, with crowds lining up at shops to buy any durable goods regardless of need or intrinsic value. By week's end one of Moscow's principal department stores, Mos-torg, shut its doors and posted signs saying "Store closed for repairs."

Other establishments posted "Closed for inventory." Those remaining open had many bare shelves but still were being besieged, the reports said. The reports of Soviet difficulties brought the comment from the Russian embassy that "we have no such information here." An embassy official told a reporter "there is no sign of inflation in Russia" and insisted that the ruble has been gaining rather than losing in value.

Reports Prowler

Mrs. Loretta E. Brennan, 405 Hasbrouck avenue, reported to police that someone tried to open the window of her apartment about 2:30 a. m. Wednesday, and tried again at 9 p. m. the same date. Radio patrolmen were ordered to check the premises, but found no prowlers.

Poughkeepsie Man Gets His 'Time' in Two Ways; Here's How

When Weldon Gravett, 32, of 25 Clover street, Poughkeepsie, faced Peace Justice Walter R. Seaman in Highland Wednesday, he got "time" in two ways, according to the state police. The peace justice, who operates a hardware store, the police said, was in the process of giving out time for the public intoxication charge lodged against the defendant, when it was discovered that Gravett had virtually acquired some "time" of his own.

An alarm clock from the Seaman store, the police said, was found in the overcoat pocket of the defendant and the peace justice then took time to give some additional time.

Gravett was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail on the public intoxication charge and 10 days on a charge of petit larceny. The arrest was made by State Trooper Thomas Heron Tuesday on the public intoxication charge.

Democrat Flails Truman Spending

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D., Va.) issued a "challenge" to President Truman today to "reduce domestic spending in proportion to the new contributions to be sent abroad" for the rehabilitation of Europe. Byrd declared that $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 could have been pared from the budget for the fiscal year which began last July 1 "without interfering too much with the essential services." And if Mr. Truman is sincere about wanting to aid Europe, Byrd asserted, he will take the lead in slashing federal expenditures during the next fiscal year. The Virginian argued against reimposing price controls, rationing, and allocation of scarce commodities and materials, saying that "American free enterprise in years of peace will stagnate and die a slow but sure death if businessmen lose control of their own business." Will Pursue Career

London, Dec. 4 (AP)—Prince Philip will pursue a naval career in a chair job close to home, the admiralty announced today. The former Lt. Philip Mountbatten will return to duty December 15 as an officer in the admiralty's operations division in Whitehall. He and Princess Elizabeth are on their honeymoon in Iceland.

Canadians and A.A.U. Ring Stars Will Appear Here Tonight

Second Showing of Canucks Expected to Jam Auditorium

One of the largest turnouts of boxing fans ever seen in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium is expected for tonight's card of B'nai B'rith amateur bouts featuring that flashy Canadian team of leather pushers from the Ottawa Beaver Club and a lineup of New York state ring stars as their opponents.

Dr. Saul Goldfarb, uptown dentist, speaking as general chairman of the local organization's committee for the promotion of boxing, told a reporter that he anticipates a sellout for tonight's fight program. "The Canadians were a big hit here last month, and I'm confident that there will be a record attendance for their return engagement," he opined.

Dr. Murray Greene, ticket chairman, said that orders for ring-side seats received during the week were heavy, but gave assurance that there were some good seats left for sale at the box office.

Johnny Page, welterweight slugger from across the northern border, who put on a demonstration of heavy punching on his last trip can count on having his hands full when he stacks up against Al Brown, New York city power-puncher, who holds a decision over Jimmy Beau, the Poughkeepsiean credited with stopping the durable Tony Barone of Schenectady, here.

Other five round bouts will be: Ronnie LaCelle, conqueror of Harold Morton of Albany vs. Jimmy Byron, Brooklyn lightweight; Joey Sandulo, Canadian bantam flash vs. Howard Keys of Utica; Douglas Roo, Ottawa vs. Vince Jackson, New York lightweight. There will be three three-round preliminaries in one of which Joe Ausanio, local middleweight, will take on Cy Cummings of Poughkeepsie. Starting time of the first bout is 9 o'clock.

Florida Park Reopens

Miami, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Racing returns to Gulf Stream Park today. After two days of enforced idleness over minimum purses and daily distribution, horsemen and Gulf Stream President James Donn reached a compromise agreement late yesterday. The agreement provides that the minimum daily purses will be boosted to $2,400 from $2,000 and the daily distribution be not less than $22,000 exclusive of stake events.

New York (Jamaica Arena)—Eddie Dumazel, 124½, Cardiff, Wales, knocked out Robert Fuentes, 130, Mexico City 3.

D. Walker To Bucs

According to a New York Daily News story today, Dixie Walker, veteran rightfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers who has been patrolling that spot in Ebbets Field for the past nine seasons, has been traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The trade, the News said in a story written by Dana Mozley, was completed after Walker had reportedly turned down a $12,000 offer by President Branch Rickey to manage the St. Paul club, farm team of the Dodgers.

The News story added that although no definite word was made on Pittsburgh's part of the deal for Walker, it was believed that Billy Cox, shortstop, would be one of the players who would come to Brooklyn in the exchange.

Cox, it was said, would not remain with the Dodgers but would be used as further trading bait to lure either Eddie Waitkus or Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs to Ebbets Field.

Walker, the pride and joy of the National League's best outfielders during the 1947 campaign. In 149 hits he batted .306 and drove in 94 markers. He batted out nine homers.

Old Man Winter Is Here Again

Two Smiling Ski Enthusiasts About to Try Out One of the Thousands of New Ski Trails That Have Been Opened in the Past Five Years

Ski experts predict that this winter will see the largest number of skiers that have ever wrestled with Mother Nature's blanket of snow. Reservations in the Nation's leading ski centers are the greatest in history. Famous Sun Valley will be jammed to capacity.

Here locally, followers of the sport predict that Ulster County will have the largest influx of skiers that it has ever had since the many different ski slopes have been established. This is attributed to the fact that the slopes have attained a wide degree of popularity due to the many different types of slopes. For novices or for experts Ulster County has such a varied number of "runs," that it is found to create more populous crowds of beginners, fairly good and expert skiers.

For those who haven't as yet tried their hand at one of the earliest forms of traveling, make sure you have the proper ski clothes. Don't wear anything too bulky or clumsy because this is bound to impede and in addition, you will find that most of your skiing is done in moderately cold weather. For the best types of ski clothing, shop at stores that have featured this particular type of outdoor clothing. In Kingston, you will find the most elaborate selection of ski clothes for either men or women at Kaye Sportswear. You will find ski pants that are streamlined with loose knees and pegged bottoms. Most of the fabrics are wool gabardines which are lightweight and yet very warm. It's a clever idea to wear a pair of ski pajama bottoms in under your ski pants. This will most certainly ward off any chill. Kaye Sportswear is located at 46 and 48 North Front, Kingston, N. Y.—Adv.

Bagatelles:

Although there are more All-America football selectors than Uncle Sam has creditors, the composite 1947 collegiate dream backfield will eventually show Johnny Lujack, Doak Walker, Bob Chappuis and Ray Evans, of Kansas.... The Sun's selectors tabbed Evans as the best college player of the year.... Bill Swiacki of Columbia has been picked on virtually every team to hit the sports desk.... The All-DUSO quandary is due any day now.... We need more time for that one....

Flotsam and Jetsam:

The Mayor of Cat Holler got a laugh out of reports that the Pineapple Bowl in Hawaii had inadvertently signed three teams for one game on New Year's Day.... Reminded him of the time three baseball clubs showed up one afternoon on the Turnersville diamond.... That was long before the days of inflation, too.... The world's rainbow trout record has been cracked again at Lake Pond, Oreille, Idaho for the second time this year.... Newest record holder is Wes Hamlet, Coeur Alene, who took a 37-pounder recently which measured 40½ inches in length and 28 around the middle, and upped the world's mark a full pound.... Those big Kamloops rainbows never stop growing.... Paul B. Williamson, originator of the Williamson system of picking the football winners and rating teams will be honored this week as the Alumnus of the Month by Alabama Poly (Auburn) where he matriculated....

Muhlenberg College, one of the highest scoring teams in the nation, finished the season with a record of nine wins and one loss (7-6) to Temple and rolled up 388 points.... The Mules are bidding for the big time, judging by the feverish tub thumping going on in Allentown, Pa.... Orange alumni may disagree but Coach Lew Andreas, Syracuse cage mentor, who tutored the all-time All-American, Vic Hanson, 30, years ago, thinks that the present Orange All-American, Billy "The Bullet" Gabor, is just as good....

The Powder Box:

Tillie Taylor, former W.L.B.C. singles champion, has a new name.... It's Tillie Zalari.... The James Gray Ladies, with Irene Richards, Ann Sabolowski and Mary Michaels hold a five game lead in the Metropolitan Ladies' Classic.... Sabolowski is carrying a 130 average.... Edna McLaughlin is starting to speak out hefty scores in Newburgh.... Kingston girls have match scheduled in Middletown Saturday and are apt to find the going pretty rough....

Of Men and Mice:

Liberty High, Kingston's strongest threat for DUSO basketball honors, opened its season with a 40-23 victory over St. Joseph's of Callicoon.... Led by the amazing New York Giants who set an all-time record with 221 home runs, the National League batters slugged out 886 round trippers in 1947.... Ted Williams and mirrers plenty burned up over selection of Joe DiMaggio as MVP in American League.... The balloting was close this year and we think Ted's coolness towards the baseball writing fraternity didn't help his cause any.... Joe Williams of the World-Telly observed that if the players themselves were to make the selection, DiMaggio would win in a walk every year.... Jackie Robinson's low vote came as a surprise to us....

The College Gravy Trains:

You'll notice the de-emphasis talk in college football doesn't come from those schools that have to maintain huge stadia.... They're quite willing to let the "character builders" embark on meaningless crusades while they reap in the golden harvest.... Take a glance at these figures: Southern Cal-UCLA, 102,500; U.S.C., Notre Dame will draw 105,000 this week; Stanford-Cal., 68,000; Michigan, played to 88,000 twice; 85,000 once and 71,000, 66,000, 60,000; Penn drew four packed houses of 78,000 and 71,000 and 445,000 for the season.... Medford, Ohio State attracted 86,000, 76,000, 73,000 and 70,000.... Even Yale and Harvard drew 71,000 for their annual class.... Did you ever hear anybody de-emphasizing a dollar except the butcher on the corner?

Rickey Says Okay On Durocher Given By A. B. Chandler

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Branch Rickey, quiet on the Brooklyn Dodgers' managerial plans for 1948, admits that Commissioner A. B. Chandler has given him the green light as far as naming Leo Durocher is concerned.

"I have seen the commissioner," Rickey was quoted by the New York Times, "and that millstone is no longer around my neck. Now I can move as I have wanted to move for some time, but there are a lot of things to be done and I am doing them as rapidly as possible."

This was taken by baseball men to mean that any day now the announcement would be forthcoming that Durocher had signed a contract to pilot the Brooks next season. Rickey hastened to deny however, that Leo had already inked the document.

Reports Leo Signed
(The New York Daily Mirror, in a copyright story, said Durocher had signed a contract yesterday at Rickey's Chestertown, Md., farm. The Mirror also said Dixie Walker had been traded to Pittsburgh.)

Indians Purchase Fletcher; Braves After Jeff Heath

The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cleveland Indians occupied the only trading mart business Wednesday with the announcement that Elbie Fletcher, first baseman of the Pirates, had been sold to the Cleveland Indians for slightly more than the $10,000 waiver price.

Fletcher, who saw little service with the Corsairs last season when Hank Greenberg was then a member of the club, is 30 years old. He injured his ankle earlier in the 1947 season and didn't appear in the Pirates lineup until May 18. At the same time it was announced that Les Fleming, Cleveland first sacker, had been shifted to the Pirates' farm club at Indianapolis, of the American Association.

Heath Waived Out
The American League, upon the request of the St. Louis Browns, yesterday waived Jeff Heath, tem-permental outfielder of the Browns, out of the American League and it was believed that Billy Southworth, manager of the Boston Braves, was the most likely to acquire the big outfielder. Although the Beantowners appear to have the inside track on Heath, the Browns are seriously weighing other offers reportedly coming from the New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds.

Legionnaires Nip Millerton, 48-46 in Thrilling Game

Ice Cream Eaters
The average American used an estimated 18 quarts of ice cream in 1947 which was lower than the record 20.5 quarts in 1946.

Kingston's Superb Foul Shooting Margin of Win

There were some weird happenings on the municipal auditorium court last night but from the chaos emerged a thrilling 48-46 victory for the Kingston Legionnaires over the powerful Millerton quintet in a game that is not likely to be equalled this season for thrills and excitement.

To say that Referee Lou Schafer experienced a hectic night is putting it mildly. Lou found himself behind the whistle in the Legion's questionable policy of using only one official a game and the genial Y.M.C.A. physical director was the victim of unsolicited support from the players.

Westley "Wee" Westrum, the New York Giant catcher, tried so hard to assist Schafer in the interpretation of certain technicalities that he was the victim of a technical foul. The referee notified the press and bench that Wee was trying to teach him how to referee, an ancient occupational disease among basketball players.

Other Bizarre Items
Among other bizarre items were having play continue for 1 1/2 minutes without the clock moving, the referee ignoring the timer's horn on a substitution; Kingston calling time and not taking it and players running into the game without reporting.

In achieving their second victory of the season, the Legionnaires put on a svelte exhibition of pressure shooting. They trailed 11-14 at the quarter mark, moved ahead 22-38 at the half and then the upstart hand in the clutch fourth quarter.

Hank Belter missed a foul throw to open the fourth quarter but Big Andy Murphy, the Legion seige gun, sent the locals ahead 36-34 with a tip-in. Gilbert, the 20-point average man, squared it at 36-36 on a set shot. "Fink" McElrath recovered the lead 38-36 but Willie Belter knotted it again at 38-38.

Kingston built up a four-point lead, 42-38 at the 6-minute mark on Murphy's deuce from the corner and a hook shot by newcomer, Dan McGrane. Gilbert scored on a hook shot for Millerton but Charlie Bock furnished the equalizer for Kingston and McGrane converted a foul for a 45-40 Kingston margin at the 5-minute mark.

Chicago, Dec. 4 (AP)—The United States Olympic Committee today awaited the decision of the Swiss Organizing Committee at St. Moritz, Switzerland, concerning the "hot potato" status of who will make up the United States ice hockey team in the 1948 winter games.

Yesterday the committee, headed by Avery Brundage, meeting in Chicago, threatened to withdraw all the United States' teams from the winter contests if the Swiss committee sticks to its preference for the ice hockey entry of the "professional and commercial" Amateur Hockey Association.

Calls Threat a Bluff
In London, however, John Ahearne, general secretary of the International Ice Hockey Federation, termed the Chicago action "a bluff." He added:

"Avery Brundage can do whatever he pleases but he will not sabotage hockey at the Olympics. The Swiss are the only one voice in the International Olympic Committee—and that is Brundage. But for his information, we won't play against a team of his committee's choice, and that's final."

The I.I.H.F. last year cancelled the membership of the A.A.U. and replaced it with the A.H.A. The U.S. committee's action left the Swiss committee with the sole choice of approving the ice hockey team selected by the U.S. Hockey Committee backed by the U.S. Olympic group, which claims the A.H.A. is "commercial and professional."

Meeting Is Called
At St. Moritz, where the winter games are scheduled January 30, February 8, Carl Nator, general commissioner of the Swiss Organizing Committee, said "we cannot risk not to have the Americans here." He called a meeting of the 20 members of the Swiss Olympic Committee for December 13 in St. Moritz to take formal action.

Nator added that the A.H.A.'s entry had been accepted by his group at an informal meeting attended by only "five or six" of the committee's members. He said the full group will "do what we can" at the December 13 meeting.

The committee left the door open to American bobsled, ski, speed and figure skating, and possible ice hockey competition, providing the Swiss committee:

1. Approved the ice hockey team assembled by the A.A.U. and the N.C.A.A. backed by the U.S. Olympic committee.
2. Rejected the entries by both the A.H.A. and the A.A.U.-N.C.A.A. factions, in which case the U.S. would not enter a team.

Entries in all sports have already been mailed by the U.S. Olympic committee to the Swiss organizing group which has until two weeks before the winter games to accept or reject them. Brundage said the issue "transcends the ice hockey question. It now involves the authority of the U.S. Olympic committee and the extent to which professional interest can dominate international amateurism."

Betting Reported Light
On Louis-Walcott Fight
New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott, both 33 which is aged as prize fighters go, rested for tomorrow's world heavyweight championship fight.

Odds ran as high as 1 to 10 Louis will retain the title he has held ten years. There was comparatively little betting.

The challenger's associates hinted they would rather see some other referee than Arthur Donovan in the Madison Square Garden ring for the 15 round fight. Louis said he didn't care.

Louis, at 212 pounds will hold an 18-pound advantage over Walcott; his reach is 76 inches, two more than Walcott's; and at six feet two he is two inches taller.

Shod With Gold
In the 16th century, Francesco Pizarro, Spanish conqueror of Peru, shod his horses with gold and silver, because of the cheapness of these metals as compared to iron.

Giants Acquire Option Rights on Coast Infielder

Miami, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—The New York Giants today acquired first option to buy first baseman Jack Harshman of the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast League for 1949 delivery.

They are sending outfielder Jack Graham and pitchers Jake Wade and Mike Budnick, three of their farm club players, to the West coast team, and another player will go to San Diego before April 15.

If the Giants decide to go through with the deal by September 1 they must assign three more men to San Diego. Graham hit 36 homers for Jersey City and Wade, the former big leaguer with the Chicago White Sox and New Yankees, has a 17-5 winning record for the Little Giants who won the International League Pennant. Budnick was with San Francisco.

Record Bass
Weighing 24 pounds and about 35 inches long, the world's record large-mouth black bass caught with rod and reel was taken by George J. Nichols from the Tombigbee River, in Alabama, in April, 1928.

Business Men
Two of the presidents of the United States engaged in the whiskey business. George Washington distilled it, and Abraham Lincoln retailed it.

Because of fires Americans lost enough work time during 1946 to make 920,000 autos.

Liberty Tramples Second Foe; Meets Maroons Next Week

Liberty High School, despite the absence of two regulars who are on the shelf with injuries, served ample notice to Kingston High School's basketball team that the Redskins will be tough this year, when it hammered out a 48 to 13 victory over Narrowsburg Tuesday night.

Kingston and Liberty will inaugurate the 1947-48 DUSO League schedule Friday night, Dec. 12, at Liberty. The Maroons are slated to play Beacon in a pre-league opener Tuesday night at the municipal auditorium.

Despite the absence of both Charlie Holland and Allie Hasbrouck, the Redskins poured it on and romped through with their second straight win of the year.

The club had previously knocked out St. Joseph's Seminary, 40-23. Hasbrouck is currently sidelined with an ankle sprain while Holland has been suffering from an elbow injury which he incurred in the final football game of the season. Both are expected to be in shape in time for the DUSO opener with Kingston.

Al Benjamin, crack right forward for the Redskins, featured the Narrowsburg rout with 21 markers. Liberty led by 10-5; 16-6; 24-11 at the quarters.

New Music Now

Tired of hearing the villagers referring to the three bells, which he has played for many years, as "those old tin cans," Sam Hughes, belligerent of Mele Brice, England, has installed a phonograph and will play records of London, chiming through loudspeakers.

Democratic Chairman Hits Dewey Arrangements

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's fiscal policies were attacked as "unsound" today by Paul E. Fitzpatrick, Democratic state chairman, who said Dewey "has forced the localities to assume heavy additional liabilities without providing the funds to meet these increased obligations."

Fitzpatrick, in a statement released here, added: "As a consequence, every city in the state either has, or soon will have to enact a program of burdensome local taxes. These taxes fall most heavily on those who are least able to pay them. "The vigorous protest," he said, "by the Westchester county board of supervisors against the state's 'discrimination' in the distribution of educational and gasoline tax money, and the equally vigorous protest by the Westchester county villages against the changing of the formula for aid to local governments are the latest in a long series of complaints by the municipalities of the state against the short changing of the localities by the Dewey administration."

great abundance in Peruvian treasure rooms. In one raid, he seized $4,500.00 in pure gold.

Pupils Will Discuss Juvenile Delinquency

When the Myron J. Michael School radio forum goes on the air tonight at 8 o'clock over WKNY, adults will hear six pupils give their opinions on how the home, the school and the community have failed to accept their responsibilities.

Participating in the program will be Sally Castiglione, Betsy Empringham, Katherine Nicolosi, Chase Page, William Radcliffe and Robert Woodman. Miss Mary M. Kelly, faculty adviser, will be the moderator.

"Many agencies and adult individuals have offered their opinions concerning juvenile delinquency," according to Miss Kelly, "but up to now youth has had no chance to discuss a solution. This program will provide that opportunity."

Comments from listeners will be welcomed at the radio station or the office of Principal Clifford L. Rall in the Myron J. Michael School.

Hunt Is Abandoned
Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 4 (AP)—U. 2. Reduction of speed restrictions from 35 miles per hour to 30 miles per hour for a distance of about 1,890 feet within the present speed zone.
3. Erection and maintenance of signs to inform the public of the existence of limits of these restrictions.

Would Paint Crosswalks
In addition, the State Traffic Commission recommended that crosswalks be painted at the Salem and Hasbrouck street intersections, and urged the town to give consideration to the possibility of constructing sidewalks on both sides of Route 9-W, at least throughout the business section.
Action was not taken by the commission on the matter of parking, which was deferred by the commission pending a formal request from the town board. The letter received by Groves stated "The width of the highway, plus the gutters and shoulders, is such that there appears to us to be no urgent need for additional parking restrictions, except possibly for
